UNIVERSITY OF OREGON 1968

JUST ANOTHER YEARBOOK

Should we tell it like it really is? Or should we go along creating a story-book campus and fluffy year-book essays that say nothing? Should we speak of Housedances and Homecomings, or of civil war and foreign genocide? Should we speak of the death of Martin Luther King, or would you rather remember Mother's Weekend?

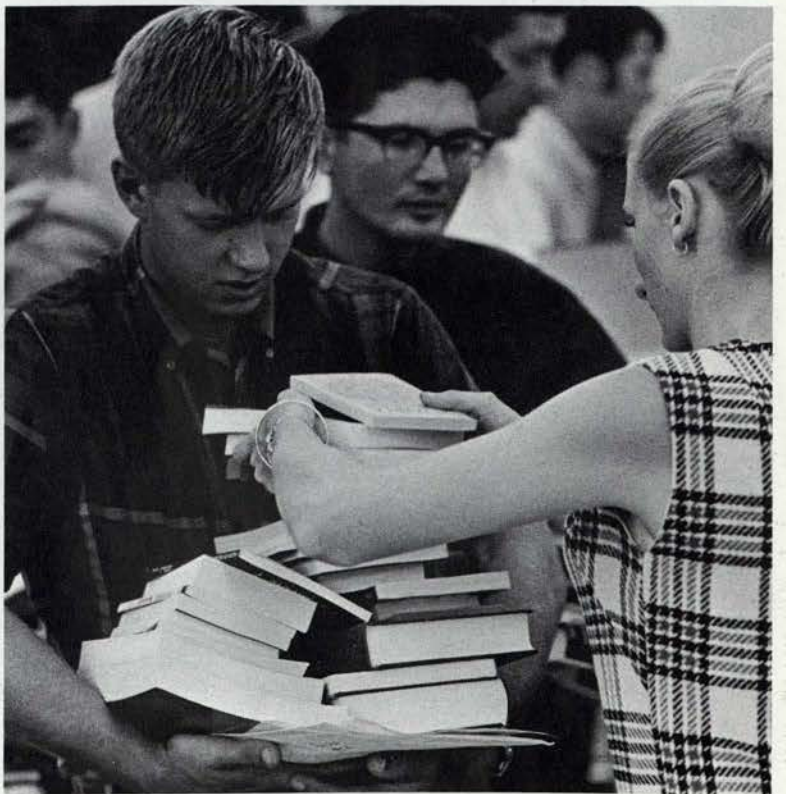

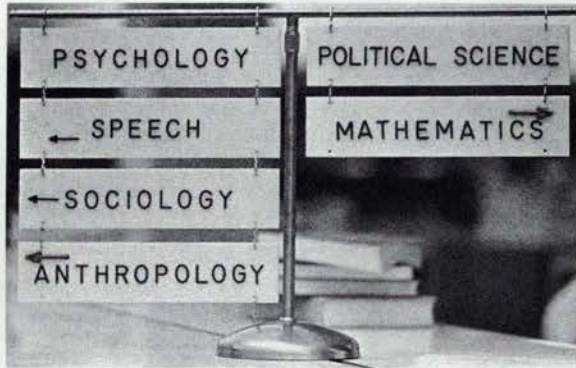

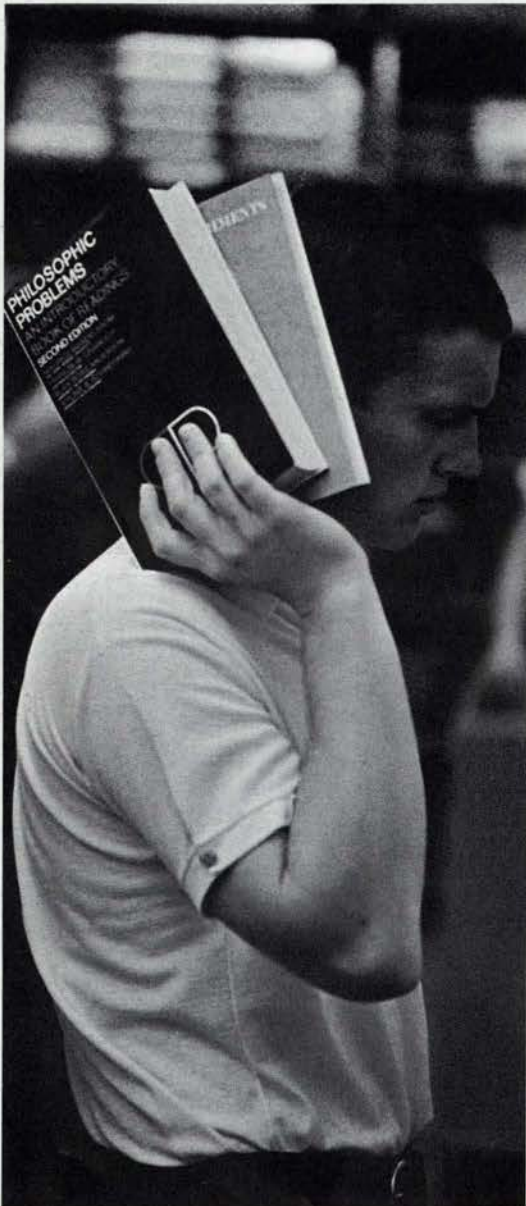

On these following 200 innocuous pages we hope we have produced nothing that will offend you, nothing that reminds you of what really happened on this campus in 1968, nothing reminiscent of the real world, out there, so very very far away. We don't want to do anything that would ever make you upset when you read these pages when you are old and gray, as we all shall be. We won't tell you about the University being four years of extended puberty rites, about the University grinding out graduates to enter that far away world much as it grinds out registration cards to send your parents your grades. No, we won't tell you about these things. That's what we told you with our magazine, and most of you didn't like it. It bothered you that a somebody should be producing such a thing and trying to pawn it off as a yearbook.

It bothered you that a "bunch of hippies" was printing such junk in the good name of a student publication. It bothered you (or did it, really) that Eugene, too, has a ghetto, or did you want to read about it? It bothered most of you. Of the magazine a State Board member asked, "What are you going to replace middle-class values with?" Someone else accused us of "using our brains to intellectualize." Should we tell it like it really is? Who would listen? Why should they listen? We're sorry that we bothered anyone with ideas. Very very sorry.

A yearbook is really a fun thing, a very fun thing. Forty 40-hour weeks, a staff of twenty and twenty thousand dollars, and you can tuck away this little remembrance of your year at the University of Oregon: the almighty yearbook. Something little noted but long remembered.

No, folks, this year no hippie essays, no stories about people doing something, no essays on Eugene. None of that, just pure and sweetened organizations, activities and housing, football and Canoe Fete.

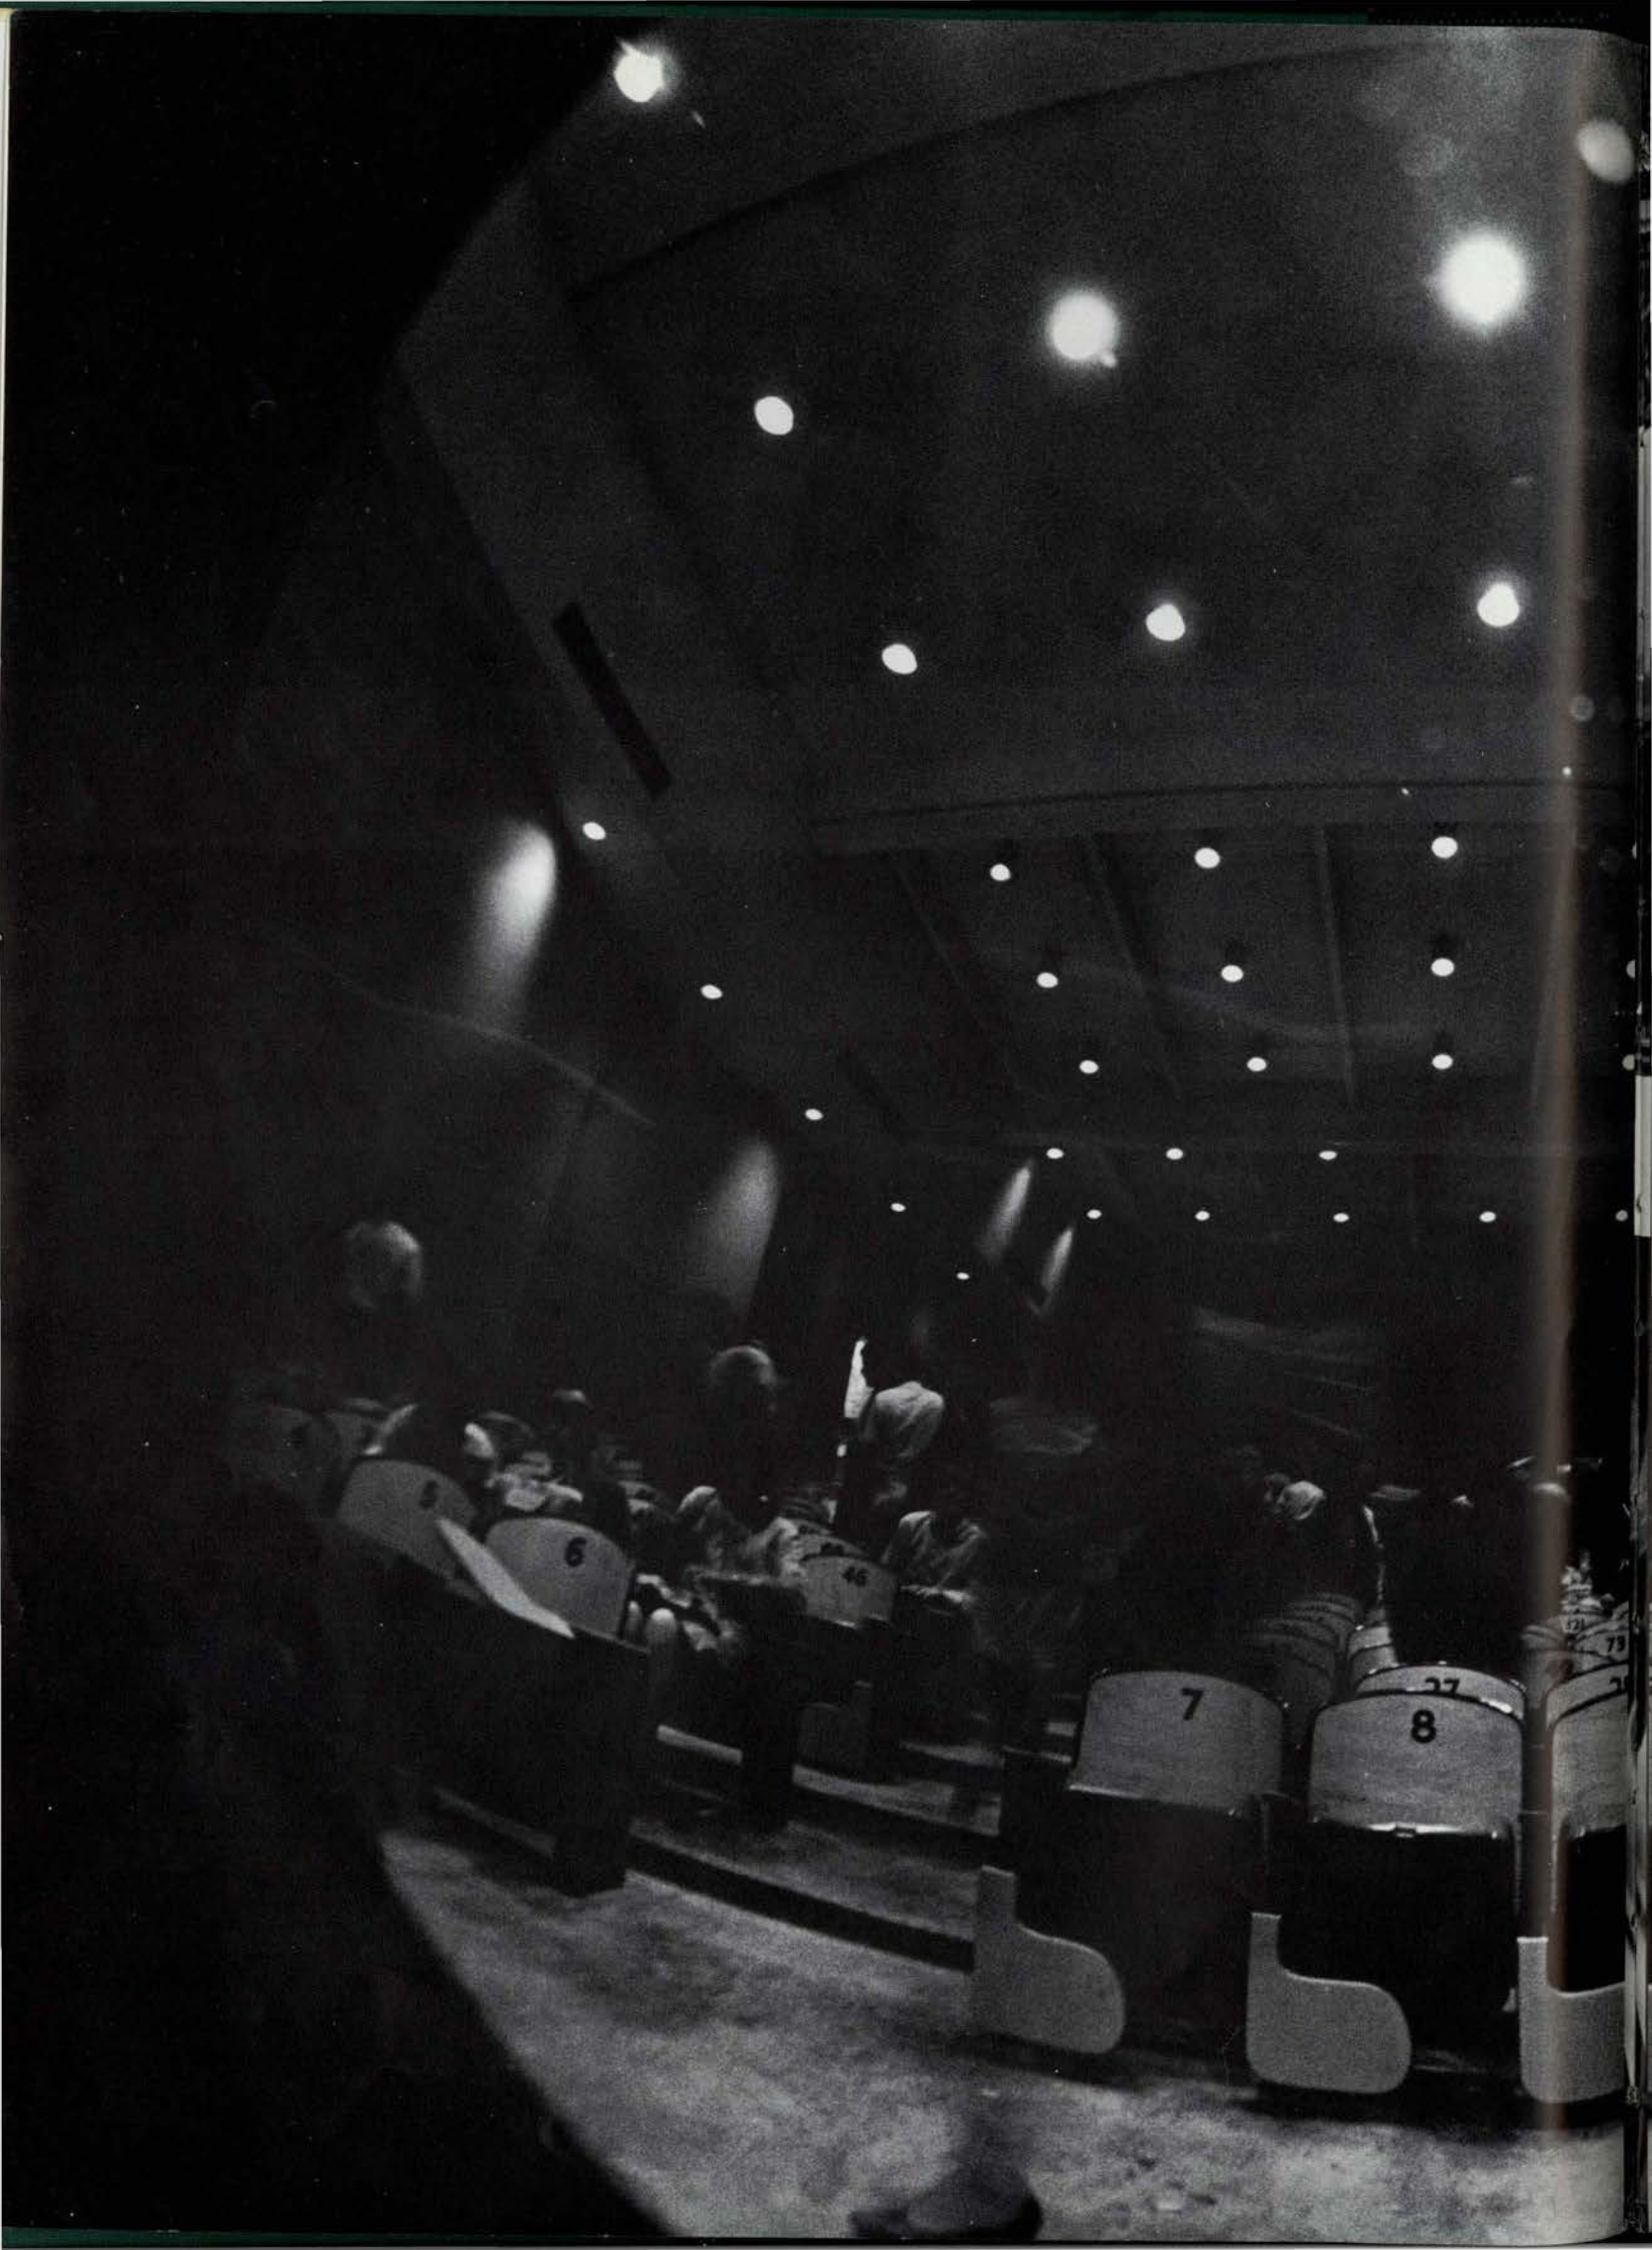

May you enjoy it to the full.

SURVEY OF ENGLISH LITERATURE

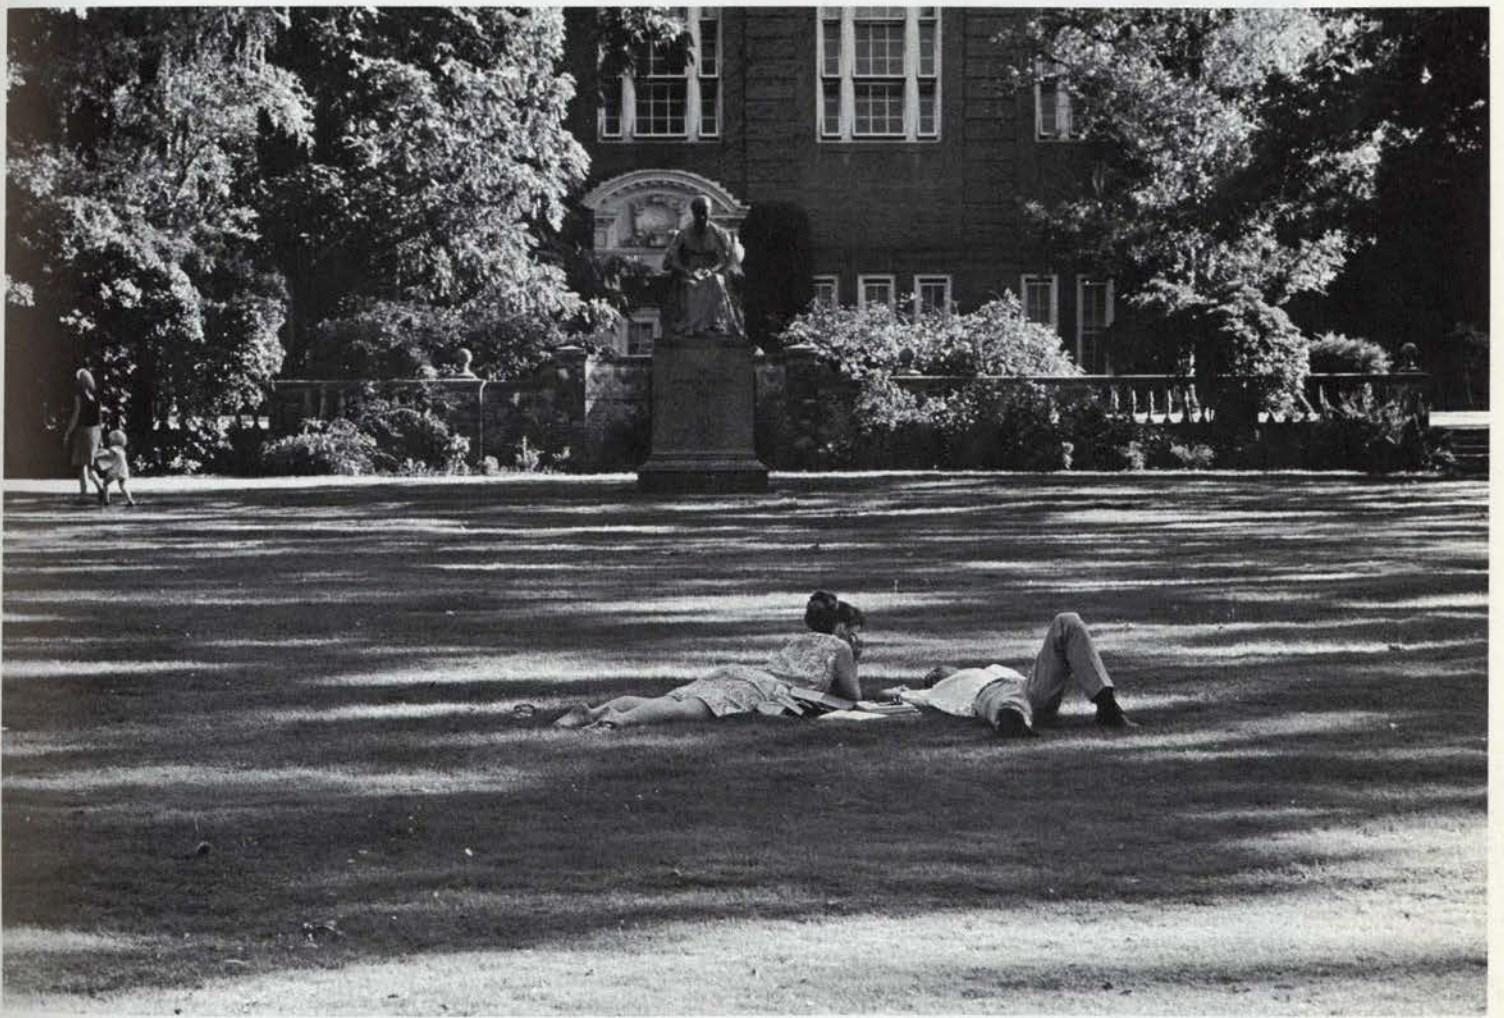

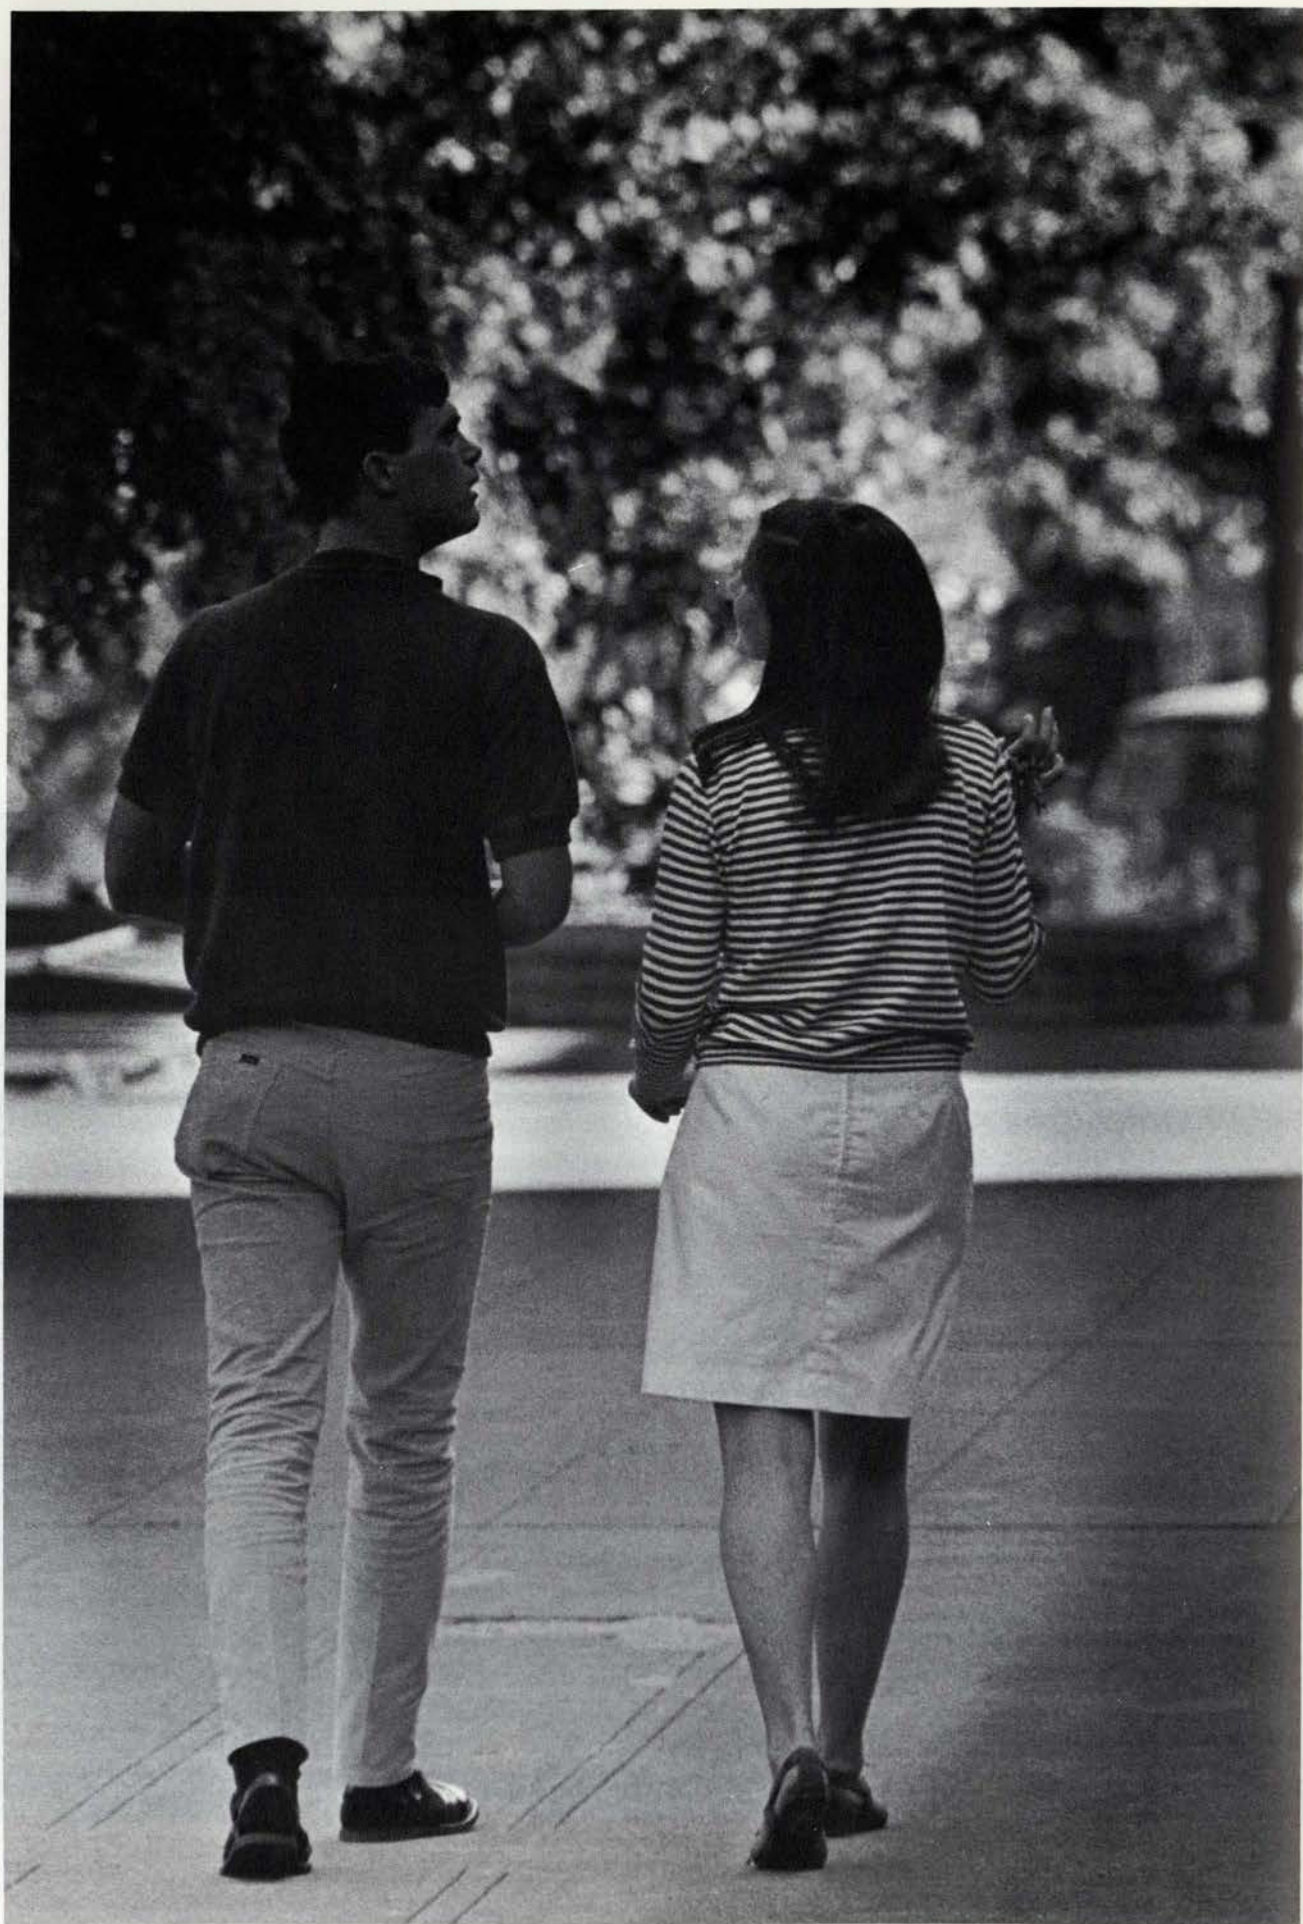

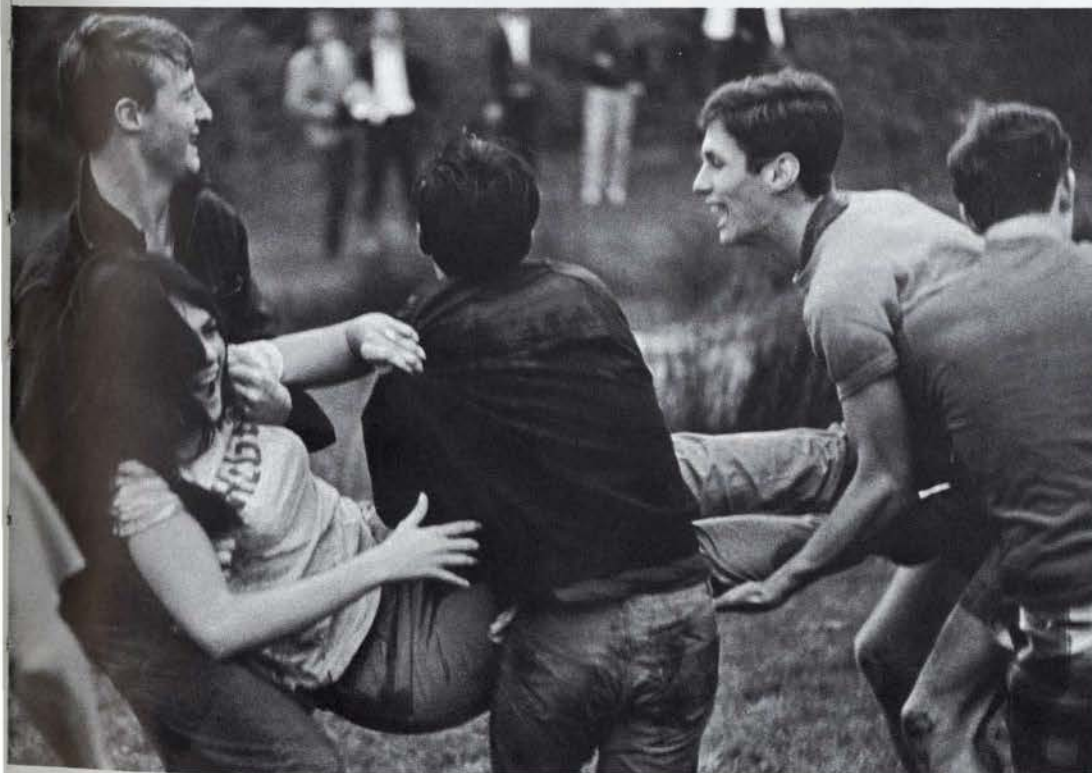

Duck Rebellion by day broke through the clouds with a myriad of activities. Enthusiastic students took part in traditions such as the Hello Walk, the Frosh keg hunt, the Tug-o-War and the painting of the "O" on Skinner's Butte. The Saturday afternoon game was a heart-breaker. The Ducks led rival OSU by 10 points until the Beavers came back with two touchdowns in the final nine minutes, making the final score 14-10.

Duck Rebellion

Duck Rebellion

... By Night

Activities after dark began with the spirit parade and bonfire Friday night. An unprecedented crowd wound its way through the campus, following band and cheerleaders to Hayward field where a blazing pile of rubble lit the sky. The stomp dance featured selection of Queen Janie Kingsley and introduction of her court, which included Kris Grant, Laurie Neilson, Jani Penn and Barb Jones. Sergio Mendes and Brazil '66 brought Homecoming week to a swinging close Saturday night with their original renditions of American pop and Brazilian folk music.

Mother's Weekend

The Canoe Fete, Spring Sing and a symposium on racism were all part of this year's Mother's weekend which served as a climax to the University's annual Junior Week.

The weekend was kicked off Friday night with the 56th Annual Canoe Fete which had as its theme "It's a Wild, Wild West." Float winners at the Fete included: First place, The Meeting of the Rails built by Sigma Phi Epsilon, Delta Gamma, and University House; Second place, Plight of the Red Man built by Gamma Phi Beta, Theta Chi, and DeBusk Hall; Third place, The Concord Stage built by Delta Zeta, Alpha Delta Pi and Sigma Chi.

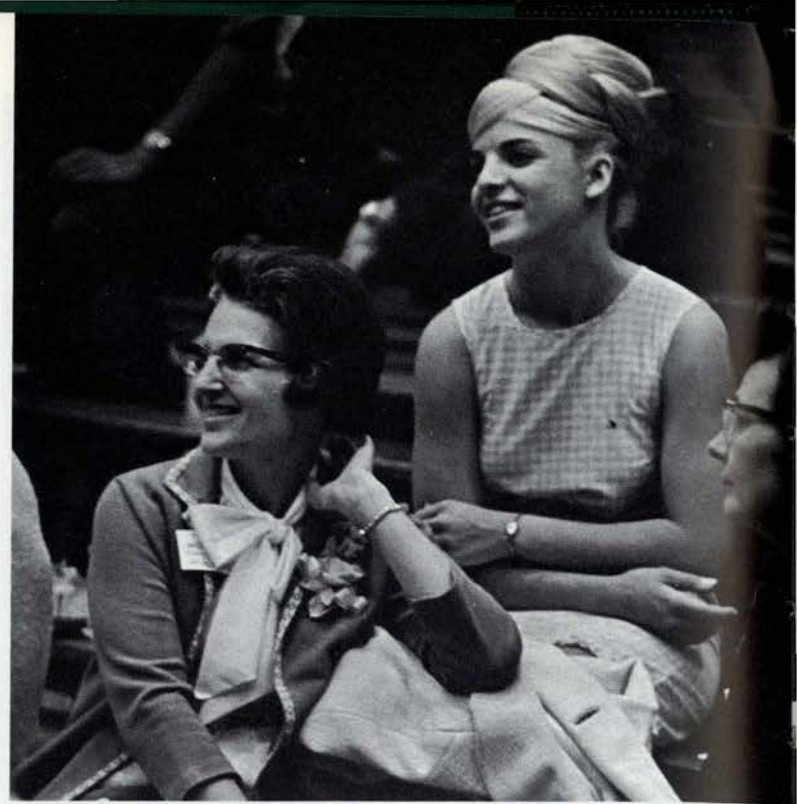

Saturday saw a symposium on racism entitled "Tell It How It Is," the Mother's Club Business Meeting and an all-campus picnic where campus honoraries tapped new members. There were also "mini" SEARCH courses for the mothers, an informal tea in the Museum of Arts, a varsity-alumni football game and various open houses.

The Spring Sing Saturday night climaxed the weekend using as its theme "Impossible Dream." Winners here included: Mixed Group—University House and Collier Hall; Men's Group—Chi Psi; and Women's Group—Sigma Kappa.

Delta Zeta and Campbell Club compete in the Mixed Group division of the Spring Sing.

Mother's Weekend

Mothers enjoy the all-campus picnic in MacArthur Court.

Interest varied at the symposium on racism.

University Government

Mike Donahue, ASUO Vice-President

The ASUO Student Government is many things to many people. To some it's a group of students who "play politics." To an apathetic majority, it is virtually nonexistent. They know nothing of its successes, or failures. To those who are involved, it is a valuable experience of benefit to both the student and university. And it is a group of dedicated students working hard each to improve this University.

People involved in student government work in almost all areas of concern to the student. They have made great changes in the Conduct Code, finally obtained no closing hours for women students, initiated the Pass-No-Pass option, brought informative speakers to this campus, and are still searching for new service and program ideas. They are constantly striving to make this university the kind of university students want.

What do they receive for their efforts? Very little! It seems student leaders are the most accessible objection for degradation. They are continually under the fire of criticism. I'm not saying that all of these adverse remarks are unwarranted. All aspects of life, including student government here at the University of Oregon, have their egocentrics, their liberals, their conservatives, their loafers. All deserving, at times, words of censure. But often the criticism outweighs the good reports. This gives the uninvolved person a tinted view of student government. He has preformed ideas based on individual incidents rather than an opinion based on an overview.

Student Government is valuable. It gives students the opportunity to help govern and direct the progress of this institution. It provides valuable leadership training. It is the link between the aspirations for, and the fulfillment of, many programs. It is an opportunity for every student. It is unfortunate so few take advantage of it.

The above was written for the Oregana by Cathi Kleinke.

PUB Board

The Student Publications Board acts as the publisher for all official University student publications, including the Emerald, Oregana, Oregana Magazine, Next and Pigger's Guide. In this role, the Pub Board advises student editors, establishes some policies, sets up and controls budgets. The 16 member Board consists of eight faculty and eight student members, with all student editors being included.

This year the Publications Board tangled with such problems as legal liability of individual Board members, relations with other campus departments, the defined role of the Board, and, of course, numerous financial problems.

Next

Next, the student literary magazine, because of budgetary problems and lack of high-quality material for publication, was joined with the Oregana Magazine during winter term. Editors of both publications felt that this would enable Next and Oregana Magazine to gain a larger following and to improve the quality of both magazines.

Next editors: Roberta Nudo, Truman Massey. Not shown: Nancy Gann.

EMU Board

The Erb Memorial Union Board consists of fourteen student members and two representatives of the faculty. The Board functions primarily in the areas of policy-making and programming.

After a period of some evolution, the Board has become one of the most progressive committees of its kind in the western states. The philosophy of "total programming" which reflects the many-layered currents of student involvement, is an attempt to reach all students—from hippies to Greeks, from freshmen to doctoral candidates.

The EMU Board is divided into two separate areas: the House Council and the Program Council. The House Council is the executive committee for the EMU Board, and the Program Council plans and administers programmed events in the social, cultural, recreational, and forum areas.

While some students played Homecoming, others worked to aid the less fortunate in our society.

While some students played football, others sought to make the University relevant to the total society.

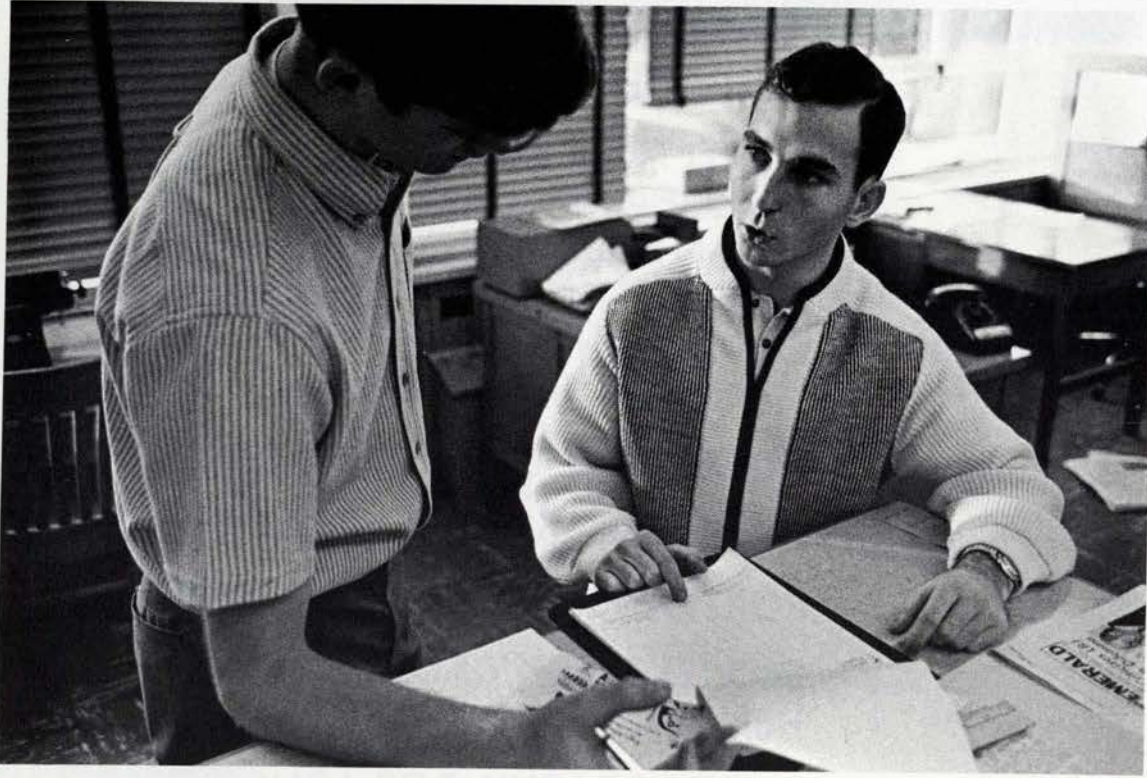

While some students played classroom, others tried to change a meaningless system.

While some students played student government, others demanded that they be given their right to have a say in determining educational policy.

While some students wanted to read "Look, look see the students play," others read the Oregon Daily Emerald.

IFC

The Interfraternity Council is the representative body for the twenty-one fraternities on campus. Its general purposes for this past year were to organize and coordinate fraternity efforts in the areas of rush, community service, and general campus involvement. Highlights of the year were Greek Focus, a week-long effort by fraternities and sororities to present to the campus a focus on numerous current challenges to our society; participation in the March of Dimes campaign, for which fraternities raised over $3,000; and the IFC awards banquet. The Wilson Cup, emblematic of individual fraternity excellence, was won by Theta Chi, and the most improved fraternity was Pi Kappa Alpha.

The IFC awards banquet saw the selection of Theta Chi as the outstanding fraternity on campus and Phi Kappa Psi as having the most outstanding scholarship.

Alpha Kappa Psi

Alpha Kappa Psi, represented by Kappa Chapter on the University of Oregon campus, is a nationwide professional business fraternity consisting of over one-hundred and sixty college and university chapters and over sixty alumni chapters.

Kappa Chapter, chartered in May, 1905 at the University, has grown to be the largest business group serving the College of Business Administration. With a membership of over fifty students and ten faculty members, Kappa Chapter has earned the distinction of being first in the nation for two consecutive years, a rating conducted at each college chapter.

Among the activities of the Chapter are professional tours and speakers, various projects and services rendered to the Business School, and community service projects. All the above hopefully provide the student majoring in some form of business or economics with a fuller and greater perspective of the business world before he enters it, something over and above the classroom-textbook technique.

IDC

Interdorm Council is the representative body of the dormitories and is made up of the dorm presidents. This group, advised by Mr. Richard Romm, considers problems and hears any suggestions which might benefit the dorms.

During fall and winter terms, IDC acted on such measures as no-closing-hour dorms, visiting hours, and a dormitory court system.

Every year the Hawaiian Club (Hui O'Kamaaina) climaxes the winter term with an all-day snow trip. Approximately 40 Hawaiians and mainlanders pile into a rented bus and begin the journey to either Hoodoo or Willamette Pass. The bus is equipped with a dozen rented toboggans and several large inner tubes.

Do they have wild times? You bet!! Kids go double, triple and, if daring enough, even quadruple down homemade toboggan trails. Homesick surfers "surf" down the trails and "wipeout" near the end. It's all fun and excitement in the Oregon snow but by the end of the day—exhaustion!

Snow trips are tiring and wet, but who ever goes tobogganing in Hawaii?

"Peace reigns today; it is the peace of death. A stagnant pool abides in peace. When waters cease to move they soon are laden with the seeds of death; corruption dwells in every drop. The living waters always leap and skip about like lambs in spring. The nations are corrupt; they sleep within the arms of death and they must be aroused before it is too late. Peace follows strife.

"The truth will stir the demons up, and nations, cities, families will be at war within themselves. The five that have been dwelling in a home will be divided now, and the two shall war with three. The son will stand against the father; the mother and daughter will contend; strife will reign in every home.

"This round of human life will not be full until the armies of the conqueror will thunder at the gates, and they will enter in, and blood will flow like water through the streets. And all the precious furnishings of temple and court will be destroyed. Before the days come, you shall be maltreated by the scribes, and Pharisees, high priests and doctors of the law. Without a cause you will be hauled into the courts; you will be stoned; you will be beaten in the churches; you will stand condemned before the rulers of this world and governors and kings will sentence you to death. But do not falter but testify to truth and righteousness.

"And in these hours be not anxious about your speech; you need not think of what to say; for the Holy Breath will overshadow you and give you words.

"When you shall hear the Roman eagle screaming in the air and see his legions streaming o'er the plains then know the desolation is near. Then let the wise wait not, but flee. And he who labors in the field must not return, but flee.

"And even mothers with their children must flee in that day; for none shall escape the sword. The tribulation of these days cannot be told in words, for such has never been since God created man upon earth.

"But when the people have been punished for their crimes, the tribulation days will end; but the time will come when all the world will rise like gladiators in a ring and fight for the sake of shedding blood.

"And men will reason not; they will not see, nor care to see a cause for carnage, desolation, thefts; for they war with friend and foe.

"They very air will seem surcharged with death; and pestilence will follow close upon the sword. And signs that men have never seen will then appear in heaven and earth; in sun, and moon, and stars. The seas will roar, and sounds will come from heaven that men can never comprehend, and these will bring distress to nations and perplexity.

"Hearts of the strongest men will faint in fear, in expectation of the coming of more frightful things upon the earth. But while the conflicts rage on land and sea, the Prince of Peace will stand above the clouds of heaven and say again:

'Peace, peace on earth, goodwill to men, and every man will throw away his sword and nations will war no more. And then the man who bears the pitcher will walk across an arc of heaven; the sign and signet of the son of man will stand forth in the eastern sky. The wise will then lift up their heads and know that the redemption of the earth is near.

"Before these days shall come, behold false Christs and poor deluded prophets will arise in many lands. And they will show forth signs, and do a multitude of works, and they shall lead astray the many who are not wise; and many of the wise will be deceived.

"When men shall say, the Christ is in the wilderness, but go not forth. And if they say, the Christ is in the secret place, go not forth.

"For when he comes the world will know that he has come.

"For as the morning light comes from the east and shines unto the west; so shall the coming of the age and the son of man. The wicked of the earth will weep when they shall see the son of man come down upon the clouds of heaven in power.

"Take heed you, O take heed you, for you know not the hour nor the day when the son of man comes. Let not your heart be overcharged with sensuous things, nor with the cares of life, lest that day come and ye be unprepared.

"Keep watch at every season of the year; and pray that you may meet the Lord with joy and not grief. Before those days shall come our Father - God will send his messengers abroad, yea, to the corners of the earth and they will say,
'Prepare you, O prepare, the Prince of Peace shall come and now is coming on the clouds of heaven.'

Panhellenic Council

The Panhellenic Council functions as the hub of sorority activity through its roles of organizer, policy maker, philanthropist, mediator, and judge. Presidents of each of the sixteen sororities compose the voting body, while Panhellenic officers preside over meetings and expedite administrative tasks.

This year has witnessed many policy changes and activities. At last year's Spring Retreat delegates voted to elect officers in 1968 rather than to follow the traditional rotational system. Also, a special delegate instead of the house presidents will be elected from each sorority to vote in Panhellenic. Meetings with the Conduct Committee resulted in expanded authority for the Judicial Board. Through Panhellenic, changes in the closing hour system were formulated and centralized. Special projects included Christmas gifts for the children at Skipworth and sacrifice dinners to aid the March of Dimes.

Rally Board

The purpose of the rally board is to promote school participation through spirit oriented activities such as rallies, dances, rooting sections, and the rally squad.

Two innovations by this year's Board were the planning of a 500 person card section for next year's football games and planning an International Cheerleading school to be held this summer.
