

OLD OREGON

Issued for Alumni and Former Students of the University

OCTOBER, 1919

OFFICERS OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Homer D. Angell, '00, President.....	Portland
Mrs. Edith Kerns Chambers, '95.....	Eugene
Charlie R. Fenton, '16, Secretary-Treasurer.....	Eugene

ALUMNI COUNCIL

Frances Oberteuffer Moller (Mrs.) '10.....	Hood River
Vernon H. Vawter, '13.....	Medford
Carl McClain, '06.....	Eugene
James H. Gilbert, '03.....	Eugene
Nellie Hemenway, '13.....	Portland
Mrs. L. T. Harris, '96.....	Salem
J. E. Bronaugh, '92.....	Portland
George Hug, '07.....	McMinnville
Dean Walker, '13.....	Eugene

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

A. R. Tiffany, '05.....	Eugene
Seth M. Kerron, '06.....	Eugene
Dean H. Walker, '13.....	Eugene

"All graduates and ex-students who have attended two semesters at the University are eligible to membership in the Alumni association. The ex-students shall be known as associate members.

"Graduates of training camps, Summer School students and others in attendance less than two semesters, may be admitted to the association as associate members, but cannot have the right to vote."

"OLD OREGON"

Vol. I., No. 4

EUGENE, OREGON

October, 1919

Published by the Alumni Association of the University of Oregon for Alumni and former students.

Miss Charlie R. Fenton.....Editor
Miss Jeanette Calkins, Advertising M'g'r

Subscription: Membership dues in the Alumni Association, $2.00 per year, $1.50 of which is set aside for "Old Oregon." Single copies, 50c. Dues payable in advance. Discontinuance or change of address should be reported at once to the office of the editor.

Subscription price to libraries and non-members of the Alumni Association, $2.00.

Issued quarterly. Application for entry as second-class matter now pending at the postoffice at Eugene, Oregon.

Contribution of news items and advertising are welcomed.

Since second-class matter is not forwarded without additional postage "Old Oregon" cannot be responsible for copies not received by subscribers who have not given notification of a change of address.

A MESSAGE FROM THE NEW ALUMNI PRESIDENT

Those of us who have become members of the University family by receiving a degree from the University or by a course of study leading to a degree cannot escape our responsibilities to the University. A university exists not alone in its faculties and student body, but in the influence it wields. It cannot exist separate and apart from the body of the state and its existence is justified only when its contacts touch the life of the state in all of its essential activities. There was a time when the university proper came in contact with scholars only. The lines of influence of a university of today, however, reach out and touch the every-day life of the whole community, helping to solve its problems. The results achieved in assisting in solving the problems of the hour and in fitting the young citizenship with the means of success justify its existence.

The growth and influence of an institution of learning, such as our University, is in a large part dependent upon those of us who have left its class rooms and have gone out to mingle with our fellows and play a part in the work-day of life. We owe a debt to the University. It has labored that we might succeed. If success is ours, we can repay the debt only by assisting the University to widen its influence and extend its help to an ever increasing number. Aside from the influence the sons and daughters of the University exert upon the life of the community in which they live, by their abilities, integrity and loyalty, there are certain definite endeavors by which the Alumni may be of great assistance to their Alma Mater.

First of all we should be awake to the responsibility of bringing to the attention of high school students the advantages of the University and the benefits to be derived from a course of study pursued there, either in acquiring a general education or in securing technical training for a definite field. High school graduates in the enthusiasm of the hour of their graduation and their anxiety to take up their life work may overlook the dividends they will receive later from a university training. Experience teaches that it is the rule that the university graduate soon overtakes and passes his high school classmate who forsook the university for business or professional work. Let us assist high school students in taking the right course.

The state, through its legislature, has made possible a college course for our student soldiers and marines by an appropriation in their behalf. Let us urge upon them their duty to take advantage of the state's offer.

Another duty we owe to the University and to the women of the University is renewed activities in behalf of the Woman's building. No graduate or friend of the University should slacken in his or her endeavors in this regard until the building is completed, furnished and occupied. It is to the shame of the Alumni that the inefficient, unsanitary facilities afforded the women of the University have not long since been superseded by a modern building and equipment. The Alumni can only repay the debt of gratitude we owe to our efficient and energetic regent, Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, for the noble fight she has waged for a woman's building, at times almost single handed, by coming to the front and raising the balance of the funds necessary to meet the state's appropriation so that the appropriation may not lapse. Let us do it.

HOMER D. ANGELL.

—o—

To All Oregon Men and Women:
Your Alma Mater is calling you to come back the 15th of November when Oregon meets her old rival, O. A. C.

—o—

No better time could be selected than Home-coming Day to come back and visit with your old friends.

HOME-COMING DAY

Home-coming Day is for everyone this year. Every alumnus, former student and friend of the University is invited to come back "home" on November 15th for the O. A. C., Oregon, football game and alumni celebrations.

Home-coming Day is the greatest get-together affair that the University of Oregon has ever engineered. The custom was started in 1915 when Oregon played O. A. C. on Kincaid Field. The Aggie team that year was considered one of the best in the country, having defeated the Michigan Aggies 20 to 0 back east. But again the "Oregon Jinx" appeared and Oregon came out ahead, 9 to 0.

The second Home-coming Day was on November 4, 1916, when Oregon played the University of Washington a 0 to 0 game.

The third and last Home-coming Day was in 1917. Oregon played the University of California, winning by a score of 21 to 0.

This year great plans are going ahead for the greatest Home-coming celebration that Oregon has ever had. Some of the events staged during this week-end will be the campus luncheon "a la cafeteria," the big rally and serpentine, freshman bon fire, THE GAME, and the dance and reception in the evening.

This day is especially planned for the alumni and friends of the university. Your college days may be past and the memory of them dim, but on Home-coming Day every former Oregon man and woman will be "at college" again.

Your Alma Mater is calling to you!!!!

ON TO EUGENE ON NOVEMBER 15TH.

YOUR OREGON

The University began a few days ago, another year with greatly increased registration, and with all signs pointing to a "Greater Oregon." It therefore behooves every alumnus who wants to keep pace with the progress of his Alma Mater to devote a little of his time to it.

Has the boy and girl in your community been told of the advantages offered at Oregon? Or has that indifferent or that "let George do it" spirit gotten hold of you? If you still are imbued with that "Oregon Spirit" you had when on the campus, help the boy and girl answer the question, "Shall I go to college?"

If an alumnus feels that he is out of touch with the entrance requirements and courses of study, write to the alumni secretary, who will be glad to send the latest catalog and illustrated bulletins in order to help you answer the various questions of prospective students.

This is one means of showing your loyalty to your Alma Mater.
Be loyal Oregon men and women.

MEMBERSHIP

A letter from a former student now living in Portland stated that he never knew that he was eligible to membership in the Alumni Association. This accounted for his never sending in his dues. The constitution says: "All graduates and former students who have attended two semesters at the university are eligible to membership in the Alumni Association. The former students shall be known as associate members.

Students attending less than two semesters may be admitted to the association as associate members but cannot have the right to vote."

CLASS OF 1919

The Alumni Association extended an invitation at commencement time to all the members of the class of 1919 to affiliate themselves with the association. Only a few responded. Where are the missing members? Start your first year out of college right. Send your dues to us with your correct address and an account of what you are doing.

CHANGES IN ADDRESS

For the last few years things have been so indefinite with regard to permanent addresses that the alumni records have been very inaccurate. Many alumni have changed their addresses and a great many have never notified the secretary of this change. By helping in this way it will mean much to our official records.

Dr. Albert A. Witham of Portland was recently elected President of the Alumni Association of the University of Oregon Medical School at their annual meeting. Other officers elected are: Dr. George Cathey, Portland, secretary; Dr. Katherine Manion, Portland, treasurer; Dr. Louis Buck, Portland, first vice-president; Dr. Carl Hoffman, Woodland, Wn., second vice-president; Dr. A. G. Bettman, Portland, third vice-president; Dr. James Wooden, Clatskanie, fourth vice-president. The four vice-presidents constitute the board of trustees.

Reserve your seat in the new grandstand for November 15th.

The Old Professors

By Joel N. Percy, '79

(Editor's Note: Joel Percy was one of the two members of the class of '79 who celebrated their fortieth anniversary at the University last commencement. The University is larger and more complex than it was when he describes it, but it still has much of the kindly informal relationships of the "Happy family" that he remembers. May they never be lost!)

When I entered the University in the autumn of seventy-six it had not the beautiful grounds, the stately buildings, the complete equipment, the well balanced teaching force of today.

There were no fraternities, fraternal halls or dormitories and, as to the refining accessories which add finish and culture to the students of institutions of learning at the present time, they were for the most part wanting.

There were no athletics, except practice baseball, and no athletic directors. There was no publicity department, and the president taught his full quota of classes and performed his executive functions after hours.

Three teachers and no equipment, chemistry without a laboratory, astronomy without instruments—what a contrast to the offerings of a modern University.

The students of that day were mostly self-supporting—they devoted their principal time to study, and side issues were little considered. The Laurean and Eutaxian Societies were about the only diversions and, while we enjoyed them, they were regarded as means for sound preparation for future participation in public duties rather than pleasure resorts.

We had the assistance of a limited but able faculty. The students were few and, according to the custom of the period, received personal instruction to the minutest detail. Looking backward through the mists of forty years I can see us as a happy family, confident in the wisdom of our instructors, holding their abilities in high esteem, and regarding them with affection for their personal qualities.

President Johnson was a graduate of Yale, a star student in his college days, a thorough classical scholar, a strict disciplinarian, a man whose integrity, honesty and straightforwardness commanded the respect of all. As he was my preceptor seven years—four in the old Portland High School, three in college; as I was the first University student to graduate in Greek and Latin, and as I had some facility for learning languages and was a hard worker, he took pride in my advancement under his supervision, and I was perhaps closer to him than any other student. Meeting with hundreds of his old students in after years I find that they all hold him in the highest regard as a teacher and as a man.

Professor Bailey was a profound scholar, widely informed in many branches of learning, familiar with the lore of many languages, and deeply versed in the profundities of mathematics, the chair of which he so acceptably filled. Although his accomplishments were many, he was free from pride of opinion. If he had any infirmities they were so overshadowed by his good qualities that one cannot now remember them.

As an original thinker, a scientific reasoner, an untiring investigator, Professor Condon had few peers in America. His abilities and accomplishments were appreciated in scholarly circles; but he was so modest and retiring that he never enjoyed the wide reputation he so well deserved. His fine cabinet of geological, mineralogical and other specimens constituted about all the old University possessed, except its faculty and the bare walls. The world's development as told by concrete remains of former ages; the beginning and growth of life upon this sphere; the origin and development of human life; mankind in its relation to God and the future state; that education is the search after truth and shall not be hampered by set forms, temporal or ecclesiastical—he thought and taught of these problems along independent lines.

Dr. Straub, who came in seventy-eight, is the last link, the golden link, between the old order and the new. His life is in effect a history of the University. He is of our age, his disposition is so lovable that we remember him as a brother rather than as an instructor. Let us hope to live to congratulate him upon his jubilee.

These were our teachers. Like most able men they were simple and unaffected, sincerely religious but widely tolerant, caring little for the tinsel of popularity, but much for the satisfaction of good work well done.

Dear old professors—you have long gone from earth, but your memory lingers in the hearts of your graduates; your scholarship has borne fruit in many communities; you laid broad and deep the foundations of the splendid institution of which we are proud to be Alumni.

Campus News and Comments

COMMENCEMENT

The forty-third annual commencement was held on June 16th. The exercises were spread over four days. The Failing and Beekman oratorical contest held Thursday evening elicited the usual interest in spite of the fact that only four contestants had entered. The first prize was won by J. D. Boyd and the second by Geo. W. Baney. Both of the winning orations were finished performances, both from the standpoint of composition and delivery. On Sunday the baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Major W. S. Gilbert, of Astoria, recently decorated by the French government for distinguished service in the war as senior chaplain of the first army corps. Major Gilbert's sermon was vibrated with the spirit of intense Americanism. The address before the graduating class on Monday was delivered by Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, retiring president of the University of California, whom President Campbell introduced as the "dean of University presidents on the Pacific Coast." President Wheeler spoke on the "American Type," and analyzed the dominant characteristics which go to make up Americanism. The graduating class was an eloquent testimonial to the patriotism of Oregon men. Out of 127 receiving degrees only 43 were men. A large number of Alumni and students, some former members of the graduating class, attended commencement, wearing the regulation khaki and bearing on their uniforms the insignia of overseas service.

* * * *

THE NEW SCHOOL OF SOCIOLOGY

The Board of Regents at the June meeting created a new school called for the present at least the School of Sociology. The work of the new school will approximate that of the eastern "schools of philanthropy," "schools of social service," etc., and will be divided between the University proper at Eugene and the Extension School in Portland. The aim will be to train men and women for various lines of social and public service connected with agencies for charities, relief of poverty, and for social betterment. Establishment of the school was made possible by the return of Dr. E. C. Robbins, until two years ago a member of the Oregon faculty, and the appointment of Dr. J. Franklin Thomas, formerly associate professor of sociology at the University of Washington. Dr. Robbins, although trained primarily as an economist, has specialized heavily in labor problems and charities and corrections. For nearly a year Dr. Robbins was connected with the central division of the Red Cross in an important administrative position. Dr. Thomas is a graduate of Columbia University and a pupil of Dr. Devine, foremost American authority on social service work. Dr. Thomas has had extensive experience in connection with relief and social betterment work in New York City. In addition to these two, who will assume the bulk of responsibility so far as teaching is concerned, Red Cross workers trained in the field and home service work will be assigned to the University to supervise the observation and laboratory work of the students. Oregon stands unique among the institutions of the Pacific Northwest in making provisions for a type of training the need for which was strongly emphasized by the events of the war and the activity of the Red Cross. The new school is expected to become a center for such training throughout a wide area.

* * * *

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS

Return to conditions of peace has turned the attention of young men again to opportunities for college and university training. The war itself and the growing spirit of internationalism has enhanced the attractiveness of provisions for study abroad. One of the most attractive of these opportunities for foreign study is furnished by the Rhodes scholarships, which were suspended for the period of the war. This fall the state of Oregon is entitled to two new appointments and selections will be made by a committee representing the leading colleges and universities of the state. Not to exclude any worthy candidate, the committee has decided that the qualifying examinations in the classics, mathematics, etc., are no longer required. In making selection, however, the committee will take account of literary and scholastic attainments, proficiency in outdoor sports, force of character and faculty for leadership in university activities. The candidate for appointment must have finished at least two years of collegiate work, must have passed his nineteenth and not his twenty-fifth birthday, and must be unmarried. Announcement with regard to the Rhodes scholarships is made in the hope that some alumnus or former student at the University who feels his training incomplete may be interested in making application.

* * * *

THE SUMMER SESSION

An indication that the University had returned to a peace footing was furnished by the summer school just coming to a close. The summer session of 1919 was one of the most successful since the founding of the summer school in 1905. Several courses in the summer school curriculum dealt with problems of reconstruction in the field of economics, sociology and education. The attendance was entirely satisfactory, some 273 being enrolled at Eugene and 315 in the extension summer school at Portland. Among the students at both places were an unusually large number of teachers, principals and superintendents prominent in the educational life of the state. Another indication of the strength of the summer school was the number seeking graduate credit and looking forward to an advanced degree from the University. Dr. J. Duncan Spaeth, of Princeton University, occupied the assembly platform for the first three weeks of the session and the remainder of the time was taken up by regular members of the University faculty. The concluding lecture was given by Dr. Joseph Schafer, who returned from a year's absence in time to receive an ovation on the last day of the session. Not the least important feature of the summer school was a well-organized program of athletics and recreation. Tennis seemed to occupy the center of the stage so far as athletics were concerned, and championship tournaments elicited a deal of interest. Saturday excursions to Spencer's Butte, picnics at Seavey's Ferry and visits to the Coburgs and Old Baldy gave opportunities for companionship and healthy recreation. The regular session of summer school closed on August 1, but at the request of many seeking opportunities for further study a term of five weeks was added. Courses were given in literature, history, education, and most branches of the sciences, and some 32 students enrolled for the second session of the summer school, which followed the first. This new departure may lead in the near future to a summer session of eleven or twelve weeks, accepted as the academic equivalent of a regular university term or quarter.

* * * *

FACULTY MEN RETURN

The opening of the fall term will witness the return of at least two members of the faculty who left the institution for appointments elsewhere. Besides Dr. Robbins, mentioned in connection with the new school of sociology, Colin V. Dymont, who left the University two years ago to become the head of the journalism department at Washington, will resume work in October. Professor Dymont's time will be divided between the extension school in Portland and the University proper at Eugene. Three other members of the faculty absent on leave will return here as head of their respective departments with the opening of the fall term. Dr. James D. Barnett, absent since Christmas, has been acting head of the political science department at the University of Washington, taking the place of J. Allen Smith, one of the best known political scientists of the country. Dr. Barnett has recently finished a book dealing with the requirements of a sound civil service policy, and is now engaged with other political scientists of the state in compiling a text-book on Oregon government. The second member to return is Dr. Joseph Schafer, head of the history department and dean of the summer school. Dr. Schafer's leave has extended over a period of a year, which has been spent in Washington, D. C., doing work for the National Board of Historical Service, a form of research work auxiliary to the bureau of public information. Dr. Schafer is at present head of a committee of eight chosen from the American Historical Association to outline a new course of history study for the common schools of the country. The aim of this new course is to meet the requirements of a scientific training for citizenship by stressing the evolution of our economic, social and political life, and making clear the part America has played in world politics.

One of the best known alumni members of the faculty is Fred S. Dunn, '92, head of the Latin department. Professor Dunn returns to the University in October after one year's service with the Y. M. C. A., most of which was spent in Italy.

Professor O. F. Stafford, head of the chemistry department, was expected to be on duty in McClure Hall again this fall, but it is now probable that his leave will be extended. The past year has been spent by Professor Stafford in the field of industrial chemistry in connection with new processes for utilizing wood waste. This new branch of the industry has been made possible by his own researches conducted in the chemical laboratory at the University of Oregon.

Several younger members of the faculty absent in military service will answer roll call on the campus in October. Among these are Louis C. Rosenberg, professor of drawing, and Allan C. Hopkins, of the commerce school.

* * * *

SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE HONORED.

The School of Architecture has this spring won the marked distinction of admission to the Association of American Schools of Architecture, a distinction granted to only a limited number of schools of architecture, and those of the highest quality. The Oregon school now ranks with Harvard, Columbia, Cornell, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and eight others of the highest standard, as one of the thirteen schools now admitted to the association. Under the able leadership of Dean Ellis F. Lawrence the school has rapidly advanced in both enrollment and standard of work. At present the school offers two options in architecture—the design option and the structural option, and in addition a normal course for art supervisors, and courses in design, drawing, painting, modeling and city planning. Much of the student work in architectural design is in direct competition with student work in other architectural schools and private ateliers throughout the country. Drawings are sent to New York and judged by a New York jury, and students from Oregon have secured first place in several of these competitions during the past five years, besides receiving a very high average of values in the Beaux Arts Institute of Design of New York.

* * * *

THREE OF FACULTY AWARDED EASTERN FELLOWSHIPS

Three well-known members of the faculty will be absent on leave during the next academic year to pursue research and graduate study at eastern institutions. Dr. A. E. Caswell, of the physics department, has been awarded the national research fellowship by the national research council. This organization represents the scientific branch of the council of national defense. Dr. Caswell's work will be done in the laboratories at Princeton University, and his investigations will cover the problems of thermo-electric galvano-magnetic, and thermo-magnetic properties of metals. During the absence of Dr. Caswell, Dr. Boynton will be assisted by Geo. W. Monk, M. A., for two years a graduate student at Chicago University, and during the last year an instructor in physics at O. A. C. The department of education will lose two men for the academic year, both of whom will pursue graduate work at Columbia University. Professor Fred L. Stetson has been awarded a research scholarship and will specialize in the study of school supervision. His place will be taken during the year by H. R. Douglas, a University of Missouri man who has been superintendent of schools at Ontario. Prof. A. N. French has also received a scholarship at Columbia, and will do graduate work in educational sociology. The teaching work formerly done by Professor French will be taken care of by Victor P. Morris, a graduate of the University of Oregon with the class of 1915.

* * * *

THE UNIVERSITY GROWS

Every indication now points to an increase of at least 50 per cent. over the pre-war attendance at the University when the fall term opens on October 1st. An unusually large percentage of the undergraduates who quit the University for military service will return to complete their course at the earliest possible date. Many will take advantage of the law approved June 3, 1919, providing a subsidy of $200 a year for students who have served in the army, the navy or marine corps. Resident members of fraternities have made lists of those who expect to return next fall and in many cases the number of old men will be double the membership of last year. Fraternity managers are already seriously concerned about the problem of housing the old members, to say nothing of freshmen they expect to pledge at the opening of the fall term. Dean Straub, who has during the last year delivered more than 50 addresses before high schools some 21 commencement talks and whose itinerary has taken him into every part of Oregon, confidently predicts that the fall enrollment will exceed 1,500. In spite of discouraging reports with regard to difficulties of housing, all this increased attendance will be taken care of in an adequate manner. Every spare room in Eugene will be listed and every incoming student will find lodgings suited to his needs and the demands of his purse. The increase in the student body will, however, emphasize the fact long manifest to University authorities, that the institution is outgrowing its buildings and plants and that new space must be provided for class rooms, laboratories and library and dormitory facilities.

* * * *

MILITARY TRAINING

The Reserve Officers Training Corps will be continued at the University until the military training policy of the federal government assumes definite shape. Captain Raymond C. Baird, who came to the University last March, will be in charge for the next academic year. With the exception of Lieutenant E. L. Cook, who assisted for a part of last year, Captain Baird's staff will consist entirely of new men. Three new non-commissioned officers have been assigned to duty at the University—Sergeant-Major F. I. Agule, First Sergeant James C. Reid and Sergeant Henry N. Blaneit. The detail of additional commissioned officers is expected. Military training will be required of all freshmen and sophomores except those who show a satisfactory record of service in the federal army. For juniors and seniors the work will be optional. The course of instruction has been entirely reorganized and the work of the several classes carefully co-ordinated. For freshmen the work will be entirely basic; with sophomores some attention will be given to tactical problems. For juniors the course will be tactical and administrative, including a study of military law, international law and the law of land warfare. Seniors will study the history of our war department and the evolution of our military policy. The study of civil war engagements will be carefully analyzed and maps and diagrams will show the position of army corps at different stages of the battle. Officers of the University batallion will be chosen from juniors and seniors who take advanced work in military science, while non-commissioned officers will be chosen from the ranks of sophomores. To make military training more practical Captain Baird plans to localize problems of military strategy and study them with reference to topography and terrain in the neighborhood of Eugene. Greater attention will be given to target practice. Ranges will be established and squads of men will be trained in attacking and firing on targets that may appear in any part of the field. In preparation for this work in the field men will be given practice in target ranges now being fitted up in the second floor of the University barracks. The increased attendance at the University will, of course, swell the size of the University batallion and Colonel Baird has already requisitioned some 300 additional sets of equipment. Word has just come that the war department will organize a training unit of the Coast Artillery at the University, one of very few to be established by this branch of the army. Officers for instruction will be detailed and much equipment provided. It will be remembered that the Coast Artillery Corps now embraces not only the coast fortifications, but also the heavy mobile and railway artillery, the anti-aircraft artillery, and other branches. Instruction will be given in all of these.

• • • •

THE PAULINE POTTER HOMER MEMORIAL LIBRARY

Members of the library staff of the University of Oregon and other friends of the late Pauline Potter Homer are establishing in her memory a collection of beautiful books to be placed in the University Library with which she was associated for a number of years, first as a student assistant and later as a regular member of the staff in the cataloguing department. The books to be included will be fine editions, many of them beautifully illustrated editions of the standard classics. It is planned to make this collection the beginning of a "browsing" collection such as is found in many college libraries. The case containing the books has been placed in the art balcony directly over the loan desk. This type of memorial is felt to be especially fitting for the reason that Mrs. Homer was herself a lover of beautiful books. Included in the collection will be a number of choice volumes from Mrs. Homer's own library. These have been generously offered by Mrs. Homer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Potter, and her husband, Mr. Carl N. Homer. Following is a list of them:

- The Arabian Nights. Ed. by Kate Douglas Wiggin and Nora A. Smith. Illus. by Maxfield Parrish.
- Carroll, Lewis. Alice's Adventures in Wonderland. Illus. by Rackham.
- Fouque, de la Motte. Undine. Illus. by Arthur Rackham.
- Gilbert, Geo. Cathedral Cities of England. Illus. by W. W. Collins.
- Grahame, Kenneth. The Golden Age. Illus. by Maxfield Parrish.
- Hichens, Robt. The Near East. Illus. by Jules Guerin.
- Kipling, Rudyard. The Brushwood Boy. Illus. by F. H. Townsend.
- La Farge, John. Reminiscences of the South Seas. Illus. by Author.
- Rolleston, C. W. Parsifal. Illus. by Willy Pogany.
- Rosetti, D. G. The Blessed Damozel and Sister Helen.
- Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam. Illus. by Willy Pogany.

Other books which have so far been purchased for or given to this collection are as follows:

- Anderson, H. C. Nightingale. Illus. by Edmund Dulac.
- Arabian Nights. Illus. by Maxfield Parrish.
- Buckley, Edmund. Ed. The Fine Arts. 4 vols.
- Field, Eugene. Poems of Childhood. Illus. by Maxfield Parrish.
- Goethe. Faust. Tr. by Hayward, with Illustrations by Willy Pogany.

Hamilton. On the Trail of Stevenson. Illus. by Walter Hale.
 Hichens. The Holy Land. Illus. by Jules Guerin.
 Hichens. Egypt. Illus. by Jules Guerin.
 Ingoldsby Legends. Illus. by Arthur Rackham.
 Keats. Poems. Crowell's Thin Paper Edition.
 Materlinck. Life of the Bee. Illus. by B. J. Detmold.
 Percy's Reliques of Ancient English Poetry. 2 vols.
 Pollard. King Arthur. Illus. by Arthur Rackham.
 Ruskin. Saint Ursula. Devin-Adair Co.
 Shakespeare. The Tempest. Illus. by Edmund Dulac.
 Shelley. Poems. Crowell's Thin Paper Edition.
 Stevenson. Treasure Island. Illus. by N. C. Wyeth.
 Stevenson. Home Book of Verse. 2 vols.
 Wharton. Italian Villas. Illus. by Maxfield Parrish.
 Wilde. House of Pomegranates. Illus. by Jessie M. King.
 Wulde. The Happy Prince. Illus. by Chas. Robinson.

Approximately $450 is available for immediate expenditure in purchasing for this collection. Of this about $150 is from members of Mrs. Homer's family. Additional funds are assured for later use.

Besides contributions from members of the library staff subscriptions and gifts have been made by the following:

President and Mrs. Campbell, Gamma Phi Beta, Mr. Carl N. Homer, Mrs. Adelaide Lilley, Mrs. Leonora Hansen Lynch, Mrs. Helen Beach Mitchell, Mrs. E. O. Potter, Mr. E. Schwartzschild, Mrs. Addie B. Osborn, Mrs. W. F. Osborn.

* * * *

REPORT OF THE ANNUAL MEETING

At the annual June meeting of the Alumni Association, Homer D. Angell, '00, of Portland, was elected president of the association to succeed K. K. Kubli, of Portland. Mrs. Edith Kerns Chambers (Mrs. Frank L.) was elected vice-president to succeed Mrs. Camille Carroll Bovard, and Charlie R. Fenton was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Th financial report of the secretary-treasurer for the year ending June, 1919, was given as follows:

GENERAL FUND
Balance in bank.....	$ 6.92
Received from dues—1918-19.....	589.05
Received from advertising in Old Oregon.....	91.25
Paid out to E. O. Potter (life membership).....	20.00
Expenses for printing Old Oregon, cards, envelopes and postage....	407.91
Balance on hand June 5th.....	259.31
LIABILITIES
Alumni medal, 1919.....	$ 30.00
Old Oregon. Vol. I, No. 3.....	70.75
ASSETS
Advertising to come in.....	$ 42.75
Interest on sinking fund for one year.....	180.40

A motion was made and carried that the Alumni dues hereafter would be $2.00 a year, to take effect immediately.

Who's Who

By
?

(Editor's Note: This is to be a regular department of Old Oregon, at least so long as a certain alumnus who modestly prefers anonymity to fame can be persuaded to contribute).

HOMER D. ANGELL

Homer D. Angell, class of 1900, is our new president of the University of Oregon Alumni Association. He played on the varsity football team back in those days when five yards was all that a plunger had to make in three downs. Also, Homer was an orator, winning the State Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest and carrying away $150 of the interest upon the $2,500 left by the Hon. Henry Failing for deserving seniors of the University.

But Homer is no angel, despite his name, for his college records show that five dollars a month paid not only his room rent, light and food used in batching, but also the sums that he gave to charity. That was before the days of unions, and the janitors at the University had not the benefit that comes from collective bargaining. Yes, Homer Angell was janitor and today if you get past the force of "stenogs" in the offices of Angell and Fisher, in the Lewis building, you will find this dignified personage proud of the fact that he was not only janitor but a first class A-number-one janitor that fought relentlessly against the hoards of Deady bugs, and who would have won the battle had not desire for more learning drawn him to New York City.

At Columbia University Mr. Angell was awarded a scholarship and was graduated in 1903 with both the degrees of Master of Arts and of Bachelor of Laws. Since then he has been practicing law in Portland, Ore. Our new president is a "dyed in the wool" Oregon man and back of everything that will promote his Alma Mater. The most disloyal act that he ever committed was when he married outside of the fold in 1908. But as Mrs. Angell, who was formerly Mayme Henton, of Tacoma, has adopted her husband's Alma Mater, we will forgive him.

* * * *

VERNON H. VAWTER

Vernon Hill Vawter, class of 1913, is the new member upon the Board of Regents of the University of Oregon. Vernon is like his worthy father, the late W. I. Vawter, of the Class of 1886, in having received a full quota of "Oregon Spirit," which he retained. Back not so many years ago, when the University of Oregon was fighting those bi-annual referendums, before the late lamented Mr. Parkinson went to the happy hunting grounds, on the occasion of a rally around the lemon yellow standard, Mr. Vawter the elder said, "To speak favorably of the University of Oregon in some of the Willamette Valley towns is to invite a fight," and isn't it the truth that this able and honorable sire of our new regent was on the fight early and late and upon all occasions in behalf of the advancement of education in general and higher education as represented by his Alma Mater in particular.

It is fitting that the son, so admirably suited in enthusiasm and business sagacity should aid in carrying forward this standard, now triumphant, as a member of the Board of Regents.

Vernon was born in Medford, lives in Medford, and when that far distant time comes, will die in Medford. W. I. Vawter, the father, started the Jackson County Bank, which was the first bank in Medford. The two brothers, Vernon and Bill, are "banking" there today, and it is no more than reasonable to predict that Vawters' will be running a banking business in Medford when the millenium comes. These Vawters are stickers, and that is a reason why the University is fortunate to have one as a regent. Vernon has a lower jaw that is not a "happen so."

Our new regent had just one girl while in Medford High, and just one girl while at the University of Oregon, and it is the same girl that helps him run a bungalow in Medford today. Mrs. Vawter was formerly Aletha Emerick, of the Class of 1914.

It will be interesting to learn of the attitude of Vernon Hill Vawter, member of the Board of Regents, upon the subject of hazing. Vernon was hazed when he was a freshman, and believe me, fellow alumni, Vernon was well hazed—not because he had more small-town tricks than most freshmen, but ———, well ——— here goes:

There was a bright young chap from Salem in the same fraternity with Vernon who was very wise and he suggested to Vernon how to make the best of a bad situation. When the sophomores came to lead the two to the slaughter, Mr. Vawter as well as his friend had a rotund stuffed appearance.

While our new regent and other victims were on all fours trying to scramble like an egg, a sophomore Sherlock Holmes discovered something wrong and pulled sundry bath towels, sweaters, blankets, overcoats, Oregonians and a few copies of the home town paper from the folds of Regent Vernon Hill Vawter's garments. This was considered a very serious offense in the eyes of the sophomores and punishment was meted accordingly.

—o—

The baseball and track team members received their sweaters in June. Those to whom the sweaters were awarded were Lyle McCroskey, Don Belding, Stanford Anderson, John Houston, Julian Leslie, John Gamble, William Rinehart, William Morrison, and James Sheehy, members of the baseball team. Dwight Parr, Henry Foster, Silas Starr, Al Bowles, Newton Estes, Leith Abbott, W. J. Mulkey, Harry Hargreaves, Arthur Runquist, and Ned Fowler, members of the track team.

Fall Athletics

By Marion F. McClain, Graduate Manager

THE NEW FIELD

Oregon has a new football field. On Home-coming Day, November 15th, Oregon's players will try their cleats for the first time on the new turf and our old rivals from the Oregon Agricultural College will be our guests.

Years ago, before Hugo Bazdek had learned that Oregon is a great state, wild ducks swam calmly on Kincaid field for the greater part of the day, to be driven noisefully away by Oregon's hopes when the hour came for afternoon practice. As time passed there came rumors of a new field. These rumors persisted from year to year, but each Home-coming found the big game staged on the same old quagmire with the outcome depending far too largely on flukes and fumbles.

This year the big home game will be played on one of the best fields on the Pacific Coast. Competent engineers, after an exhaustive study of athletic field construction in different sections of the country, have designed for Oregon a field which embodies the most satisfactory features of the various fields studied.

A well tiled base of gravel averaging over twenty inches in depth, with crowned center, forms the foundation of the playing field. This base is covered to a uniform depth of fourteen inches with sandy loam, easily pervious to water, preserving the crown of the base and providing a drainage system which should keep the field free from water under the most adverse weather conditions.

A turf playing field, grown under the expert supervision of H. M. Fisher, our lawn specialist, will give Oregon a football field equalled by that of few Pacific Coast institutions.

In the construction of the field provision is being made for a quarter-mile track. The track may not be completed this season, but the plans which will be carried out in the near future show the track encircling the football field with a 220-yard straightaway in front of the new grandstand on the west side of the field. There will be room for the field events on a thirty-foot strip of ground lying between the inside rail of the track and the side line of the football field, directly in front of the grandstand.

Climatic conditions make the seating problem difficult because of the necessity of providing shelter from the prevailing rains. A covered grandstand will be erected the full length of the west side of the playing field. This stand will be 300 feet long and forty-six feet wide with twenty rows of seats its entire length. A first-class shingled roof will be provided which will project far enough over the front rows of seats to give ample protection in times of ordinary storms to all of the four thousand spectators which the stand will accommodate.

Entrance to the grandstand will be by means of stairways leading from the back of the building. There will be no direct way for spectators to pass from the grandstand to the playing field.

The space beneath the grandstand will be equipped for training quarters, with dressing rooms, team rooms, lockers and showers. The players' entrance to the field will be a doorway leading directly from the dressing rooms through the center of the front of the grandstand onto the field.

On the east side of the field will be erected partially covered bleachers, 120 feet long, with seating capacity of approximately 3,000. These bleachers are to be considered as temporary and will eventually be replaced by a large modern grandstand. It is hoped that a movement may be started by the Alumni of the University to erect a permanent memorial grandstand on the plan that has been followed with such great success in a number of the larger eastern universities and colleges.

Work on the new field, which is located at the corner of Fifteenth Avenue East and Agate Street, is being rushed to completion as rapidly as possible. Work of grading the field was finished last month and construction of grandstands and bleachers is in the hands of the contractor with instructions to rush.

Next season's baseball events will be staged on the old diamond just south of Kincaid Field, but plans for the new field provide space for the stick artists at the south end of the football field. The bleachers on the east side of the football field will furnish seats on one side of the diamond and movable bleachers will be built for the other.

Coach C. A. Huntington and Trainer Will Hayward both spent the summer on the campus to keep in touch with the work that is being done and assist in every way possible in making the new field and its accessories the best that is possible.

With the opening of the fall quarter college athletics on the Pacific Coast will be restored to a pre-war basis. Football will, of course, be in the limelight. Oregon with a nucleus of her world-beating 1916 team back from overseas service and the stars from her 1917 and 1918 teams in togs ready for action, will be fighting for the center stage position.

* * * *

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

October 11th. Multnomah Club. Eugene.

October 18th. University of Idaho. Moscow.

October 25th. Open.

November 1st. University of Washington. Seattle.

November 8th. Washington State College. Portland.

NOVEMBER 15th. OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.
EUGENE.

November 22nd. Stanford University. Palo Alto.

November 27th. Multnomah Club. Portland.

—o—

Remember HOME-COMING DAY. NOVEMBER 15th.

Lamar Tooze Writes a Book

One more Oregon alumnus has entered the field of literary production. It is Lamar Tooze, a University graduate of the Class of 1916, who has just published, in collaboration with Bryant Wilson, University of California, a war story entitled, "With the 364th Infantry in America, France and Belgium." Chaplain Wilson and Lieutenant Tooze were members of the 364th Infantry (Ninety-first Division) and participated in all the battles in which the division was engaged, in France and Belgium. Chaplain Wilson has been awarded a Belgian Croix de Guerre for bravery during the Ypres-Lys operation. Lamar Tooze's twin brother, Leslie Tooze, an Oregon graduate with the class of 1916, and also a lieutenant of the 364th, it will be recalled, was killed in action September 28, 1918, while leading a charge north of Bauley woods during the battle of the Argonne.

The book is handsomely bound in cloth, contains 264 pages, twenty-two official pictures and three official maps. The first edition was published by Putnam's, New York.

It is not a history. As the preface states, it is a story of the experiences of a typical infantry regiment of the Ninety-first Division during the hard fighting preceding the signing of the armistice. It tells of the hardships and heroism of the western boys in billet and on the front lines and is full of incidents that carry the reader over to France and Belgium, along the rough roads with the soldiers as they trudged with their heavy packs night after night through rain and darkness; up to the trenches as they waited, wonderingly, under their own barrage, for the time to come when they would go over the top; through the terrible fighting of eight days in the greatest battle of American history—the Meuse Argonne—through the stiff battle on the Scheldt in Belgium; with them when the armistice stopped the guns from Switzerland to the sea; and, finally, after patient waiting, to embark with them for home. The authors have combined the tragic with the humorous but the story has none of the elements of the melodrama. Due to an unexpected demand, a second edition, limited in number, is to be published. In this issue of "Old Oregon" will be found a blank to be used in ordering this book. The authors have generously agreed to donate 25 cents on each book, ordered upon this blank, to the Woman's Building Fund.

After his graduation from the University, Lieutenant Tooze entered Harvard Law School, but after one year discontinued his studies to enter the army. While in France he attended a four-months' course at the Sorbonne, Paris. He has again entered Harvard and will complete his law course there.

Jessie Calkins Morgan, Javina Stanfield Means, Arthur Means, Bertha Kincaid Blackabt, Earl Blackaby, Ivan Oakes, Tressa Cox and Fay Clark Hurley are all members of the Alumni who live in Malheur county.

News of the Classes

1879

Two members of the class of 1879 came back at commencement time after forty years' absence. These were John A. McQuinn, of Portland, and Joel N. Pearcy, of Portland.

Through some error Harvey C. Condon has been recorded since 1914 in the general register of the University of Oregon as dead. Mr. Condon, we are glad to report, is living with his family at Vaughn, Wash.

* * *

1880

Alfred Coolidge spent a few days on the campus at commencement time visiting with old friends.

Henry Edmund McGinn, ex-'80, is practicing law in Portland after having served several terms as state senator from Multnomah county and as circuit judge in the various departments in Multnomah county.

* * *

1882

Mrs. Margaret S. Conn is living in San Diego, Cal.

Mrs. Alice Dorris Boardman is living at 1110 Lemon street, Riverside, Cal.

Otis C. Jackson, ex-'82, writes that the memory of Oregon is still very green for him. He is in the drug business in Walla Walla in the firm of Green & Jackson.

* * *

1884

Charles E. Hill, ex-'84, received his captaincy in the medical corps and was assigned to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. He has since received his discharge and is practicing medicine in Portland.

* * *

1886

Oliver P. Coshow, ex-'86, who is living in Roseburg, was on the legal advisory board for Douglas county during the war. He also served as a four-minute man, general manager of the United War Work Campaign for Douglas county, and general chairman for Douglas county in the Salvation Army drive.

W. J. Roberts is chief engineer of Inter-County River Improvement, 401 court house, Tacoma, Wash.

* * *

1887

G. G. Brown, ex-'87, is clerk of the state land board at Salem.

Anna A. Coffin, ex-'87, is teaching in District No. 1, King county, Wash. She is chairman of the Junior Red Cross for the West Woodland school district.

* * *

1888

Creed L. Chenoweth, ex-'88, is associated with A. F. Stearns in the hardware business in Oakland, Ore. Mr. Chenoweth was post master four years, mayor nine years in succession, and school director for many years.

John H. McNary, ex-'88, is a prominent attorney in Salem, Ore.

* * *

1889

Lewis J. Davis is an attorney in Portland, Ore. He is married and has five children.

1890

George Haskell Marsh still holds the position of clerk of the Federal court at Portland, which he has held for many years.

Arthur L. Veazie has done much public speaking in connection with the Liberty Loans, Red Cross Drives, etc. He is now delivering two courses of lectures in the Portland Public night schools, one on the "Great War and Its Causes Near and Remote," and the other on "American Citizenship."

Joseph M. Widmer lives in Seattle, Wash., where he is principal of a large public school.

Walter A. McClure is practicing law in Seattle, Wash.

* * *

1892

Herbert Thomas Condon is comptroller of the University of Washington. He writes that he has five children, all a credit to Old Oregon.

* * *

1894

Emma Wold will spend the winter in New York City.

Mrs. Carrie Friendly Harris visited in Eugene during the summer.

* * *

1895

Hiram C. Mack, ex-'95, is proprietor of the Hubbard Drug company in Hubbard, Ore.

Mrs. Edith Brown Miller is now residing in Portland, where she is employed at times as a Christian Science nurse.

May Loomis, ex-'95, who attended the University in 1891-'93, and has been head of the department of nursing in the northwestern division of the American Red Cross all through the war, has been made superintendent of the Seattle hospital.

1896

Virgil V. Johnson has recently been appointed secretary of the National Travelers Aid Society, and general secretary of the New York Travelers Aid Society, with headquarters at 465 Lexington Ave., New York City.

Mrs. Henrietta Owen Mansfield has been the advertising manager of the H. C. Capwell Co., at Oakland, Cal., one of the largest department stores on the Pacific coast, for eight years. She is also a successful horticulturist, owning and managing a forty-five-acre olive and almond orchard in the Sacramento valley.

* * *

1897

O. M. Van Duyn, who has been a successful attorney in Idaho since his graduation, is closing up his large Idaho business preparatory to moving to San Francisco to engage in the practice of his profession.

Dr. L. L. Love, husband of Margaret Underwood Love, '97, died in Tacoma, Wash., September 1, 1918.

* * *

1898

L. R. Alderman has been appointed educational adviser for the navy with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Cora E. Wylie, ex-'98, is Mrs. Geary Kimbrell, and is living in Pendleton. She has two children. Geary Kimbrell is a member of the class of ex-'99, and is city engineer and county highway engineer.

Mrs. Agnes Adams Randle is living in Nulato, Alaska, where her husband, Dr. H. O. Randle, is engaged in government work.

Rev. Mahlon H. Dav, formerly pastor of the State Street Baptist church, Rockford, Ill., is now American representative of Canton Christian College, Canton, China, with headquarters in New York

City. He is at present on a trip to the Orient and will visit educational institutions in Japan, Korea, north, east and south China, the Philippines and Honolulu, returning to America about the 1st of January. His wife, Mary Maud Day, ex-'99, is in Eugene and will spend the winter with Mrs. Dav's father, Seth C. Marsh.

* * *

1899

Clyde T. Bonney, ex-'99, who was president of his class in '96 and a football player in his time, is now county superintendent of Wasco county. He lives in The Dalles and was most active in various war drives and campaigns.

Frank B. Collins, ex-'99, writes from Oklahoma City that he is president of the F. B. Collins Investment Co., but that he has not forgotten the days when he took an active part in the debates in the old Laurean society.

Clarence M. Bishop, ex-'99, who says he majored in football and walking while at the University, has been taking an active part in the various war drives up at Pendleton. He is in the woolen manufacturing business and is connected with the Pendleton Woolen Mills.

Mrs. Susan B. Lewis, ex-'99, who registered in the University in 1895 and where she remained for a year and a half, has written in to the extension division asking for information concerning courses given here now. Mrs. Lewis is planning on completing her work if arrangements can be made.

* * *

1900

Victor L. Holt is head United States inspector of dehydrated fruits for the northwest and is stationed at Portland.

1901

Walter L. Whittlesey has been elected chairman of the Oregon Soldiers' Reception Committee in New York City. He is with the Bell Telephone Co. in New York City.

P. I. Wold is living in New York City, where he is associated with the Western Electric Co.

Luke L. Goodrich, cashier of the First National Bank of Eugene, and family, spent three weeks this summer on a motor trip into eastern Oregon and the northern part of California.

Percy P. Adams is a professor in the architecture department in the University of Oregon.

Susie Bannard is now Mrs. J. O. Holt, of Eugene, Oregon. Mr. Holt is the highly successful manager of the Eugene Fruit Growers association, a very important institution in Lane county.

Miss Winifred B. Hammond is in the abstract business at Marshfield.

Hon. C. N. McArthur is again representing the congressional district of Oregon in congress. Pat is one of the few congressmen who has a record of one hundred per cent. for correct voting on the various measures leading up to the entrance of the United States into the war. He is becoming an influential and very popular member of congress.

Condon C. McCornack, now Lieutenant Colonel McCornack, has been at Camp Devon, Mass., for the past year.

Mr. Richard Shore Smith is a prominent attorney at Eugene, being the senior member of the firm of Smith & Bryson.

Mr. Cole E. Stanton is an instructor in a school for boys at Pomfret Center, Connecticut.

Mr. Edward S. Van Dyke is a prominent attorney at Grants Pass, Oregon.

Leila Straub Stafford lives in Eugene. Professor Stafford is in the chemistry department at the University.

Captain George R. Campbell, associate member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, formerly of the engineers' Officer's Corps, U. S. Army, is now a U. S. Cadastral Engineer of the department of the interior at Olympia, Washington.

Mrs. Harriett Warfield Huddle lives in Hubbard Woods, a suburb of Chicago. Her husband, Wiley Huddle, who was at one time connected with the chemistry department at the University, is now in business as a consulting engineer, with an office in Chicago. He is recently home from Washington, D. C., where he served as captain in the ordnance department. Mr. and Mrs. Huddle have four children.

Mrs. William H. Kramer, formerly Adele Pickel, is living at Latouche, Alaska, where her husband is in charge of one of the largest mercantile establishments of Alaska.

* * *

1902

C. W. Converse, former member of the faculty, is head of the department of mathematics in the Eureka Junior College, Eureka, Cal.

Marion M. Scarbrough, city physician of New Haven, Conn., made a trip west this summer to visit his father, Dr. L. D. Scarbrough, of Creswell, Ore.

Ned Blythe, many years superintendent of copy on the Oregonian, is telegraph editor of the Portland Journal.

Ala O. Mosier, ex-'02, is located at Canyon City, Ore. He is county treasurer for Grant county.

Harry Benton, ex-'02, is editor of the Christian Journal, the official organ of the Christian Church on the Pacific coast, and president of the Church and School Publishing Co., at Eugene.

Edward Damon Baldwin, ex-'02, though he is now executive clerk of the Public Lands committee, United States house of representatives, and secretary to the Honorable N. J. Sinnott, representative from the second district of Oregon, writes that he has not forgotten the attic raids with pails of water in old Friendly Hall. Mr. Baldwin was a Four-Minute man in the District of Columbia squad during the war. He spoke in Washington movie theatres for the Liberty Loan and Red Cross drives. He was representative of the Oregon Society Sons American Revolution at the national congress at Newark, N. J., in 1915, and held the same honor at Detroit this year. He will be executive clerk of the public land committee of the house during the 66th congress.

Dr. A. F. Hemenway, who has been teaching in the University of Kentucky at Lexington, spent the summer in research work for the government and he expects to make a short visit in Springfield, Ore., with his parents this fall.

* * *

1903

Major (Dr.) Ralph A. Fenton has arrived from overseas. Major Fenton left Portland with base hospital No. 46. Later he was assigned to evacuation hospital No. 1. He has been head of the eye service with the army of occupation.

Calvin Casteel is working for the United States reclamation service in Okanogan, Wash. Mr. Casteel is in charge of an irrigation project there.

Dollie Ankeny Miller is living in Medford, where she is keeping house for her husband and two small daughters.

Estella V. Armitage has been an instructor in Latin at Lincoln high school in Portland this last year.

Rea Norris is a prominent physician in Bend, Ore. He was recently married to Wanda T. Logan, of Bend.

Fred G. Thayer is a prominent physician and surgeon in Medford, Ore.

Frank E. Billington is pastor of the First Christian Church in Ellensburg, Wash.

John J. Handsaker, who is living in Portland, has had charge of the Armenian-Syrian drive in Oregon.

Sibyl Kuykendall Smith has recently moved to Portland, where her husband, Robert Smith, is general manager of the War-Loan organization for the Twelfth Federal Reserve District.

* * *

1904

H. C. Galey, wife and three children have returned to Oregon after spending three years in Yuma, Ariz. They are living at present in Ashland, Ore.

Mrs. Virginia Cleaver Bean is librarian and teacher of literature in the Humboldt State Normal School at Arcata, Cal.

John Penland, ex-'04, a well-known University athlete, who has been located in Albany for several years, has accepted a position with the State Highway Commission as engineer.

1905

Fred Wilson Crocker, ex-'05, is living in Portland, where he is a civil engineer with the United States Shipping Board.

Dr. Carl Henry Davis was professor of obstetrics and genealogy at Rush Medical College and on the staff of the Presbyterian hospital prior to the war. At the signing of the armistice he was a major in the medical corps and director of the field hospital companies at Fort Riley, Kan. He now has his discharge and is practicing obstetrics in Milwaukee, Wis. His book on "Oxide and Oxygen Anaesthesia" has passed through two editions and has attracted considerable attention in the medical profession.

W. S. Hanna, ex-'05, can now be found in Billings, Mont., where he is irrigation engineer for the United States Indian Irrigation Service.

Edward A. Hertsche, ex-'05, is now president and manager of the Automatic Manufacturing Company, of Portland.

* * *

1906

Virgil D. Earl, who has been at the head of the mathematic department and athletic coach at the Washington High School in Portland for eleven years, has been elected principal of the Astoria High School.

Marion McClain was sent by the Mazamas to Mt. Rainier this summer to locate their camp for their annual outing. He is now graduate manager of the student body.

Dick A. Hathaway, ex-'06, is secretary and treasurer of the United Contracting Company, of Portland. He is married to Ella M. Dobie, '06, and has two children, and as he expresses it, they are "some crowd at that."

James W. Mott, ex-'06, who has occasionally returned to the campus to stage a senior play, is practicing law in Astoria, Ore.

Douglas W. Taylor, assistant roadmaster of Multnomah county, and for several years prominent in civil engineering work in and about Portland, died at his home on May 3rd of influenza. Mr. Taylor studied engineering at the University and was also prominent in football under the famous "Locomotive" Smith.

* * *

1907

Francis V. Galloway is district attorney of Wasco county.

Charles F. Cooper, ex-'07, is living in Albany, where he is interested in farming and stock raising.

John C. Veatch is in the United States department of justice offices in Portland.

Clarence W. Ross, better known as "Kleine," is a surgeon in the United States navy.

Olen Arnsperger, ex-'07, of football fame, is city engineer at Medford, Ore.

Theo. P. Holt is superintendent of the Tintic mines at Silver City, Utah.

LeRoy R. Kerns, ex-'07, a member of the glee club while attending the University, is now a farmer and fruit grower in Eugene.

Mrs. Mary Rothrock Culbertson is living in Hood River, Ore., where she is keeping house for her husband and small daughter.

Felix Moore, who is principal of The Dalles High School, attended the University of Washington summer school this year.

1908

W. A. Dill, formerly city editor of the Eugene Register, who has been connected with the department of journalism of the University of Kansas, is reported to be leaving that institution to join the Leavenworth office of the Associated Press.

Walter Berry is working for the Bureau of Standards in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Elsie Davis Bond is doing clerical work in the office of the secretary of the navy in Washington, D. C.

Lloyd E. Bellman, ex-'08, is paying teller of the United States National Bank of Eugene.

* * *

1909

Virgil Cooper, ex-'09, who was in his time president of the junior class and a baseball player, is now connected with the Boulevard Garage Company, of Portland.

Reuben U. Steelquist, who has been serving the past few months as manager of the Albany office of the Mountain States Power Co., has been advanced to the position of assistant general manager, with headquarters in Albany.

Captain L. A. Henderson has just returned from service in France and is with his family at the Caufield home in Oregon City.

Jesse H. Bond is directing an investigation of labor and wages in the machine tool shops in ten northeastern states. Mr. Bond received his PhD. in sociology and economics from the University of Wisconsin in 1915. Became assistant professor of sociology for two years at University of Idaho and professor of economics one year later at Simpson College, Iowa. Last May he left there to work as statistician in the ordinance divis-

NOTICE! "With the 364th Infantry in America, France and Belgium"

By FIRST LIEUT. BRYANT WILSON,
University of California, Yale Divinity School
and

FIRST LIEUT. LAMAR TOOZE
University of Oregon, Harvard Law School, University of Paris (France)

Price, $2.00

Twenty-two official illustrations. Three Maps, 264 pages
Bound in Cloth.

Twenty-five cents on each book subscribed for on this subscription blank will be given by the authors to the University of Oregon Women's Building Fund.

A second edition of this book is to be published. Delivery cannot be expected before November 1, 1919. This is a story of the experiences of a typical infantry regiment of the famous "Wild West" (Ninety-first) Division, and reveals the life of the soldier in camp, billet, and on the firing line, in America, France and Belgium. It is written in a lively, popular style, and all facts are from official sources. Would make a valuable Christmas gift.

Cut out and use this blank in ordering:

.....1919
To:
CHAPLAIN BRYANT WILSON, 19-A Alpine Terrace, San Francisco, California.
Please send by mail, C. O. D. (including postage),.....
copies of "WITH THE 364TH INFANTRY IN AMERICA, FRANCE AND BELGIUM" to following address:
(Print Address)
Name
Street and No.....
City
State
Please do NOT send cash with the order. (Benefit Women's Building, University of Oregon).

Every Oregon home should have a copy of this book in its library. It is valuable as a record of the great war and is of general interest to all. The second and last edition goes to press shortly. Order now if you desire one or more of these books.

ion of the war department, resigning soon after the signing of the armistice.

* * *

1909

Earl Kilpatrick, who for the last two years has been assistant division manager for the northwest division of the American Red Cross, has succeeded to the managership of the division upon the resignation of C. D. Stimson, of Seattle, Wash.

Myra Loveridge Cannon, ex-'09, is living in Gresham, Ore., where she is keeping house for her husband and two small daughters.

Merle R. Chessman is half owner in the William Roesch & Co. bottling works at Pendleton, and also business manager of the concern.

Edgar W. Smith, ex-'09, is state chairman of the Women's Building drive. Mr. Smith has recently given up his association with the Equitable Life Insurance Company and has gone into the grain business. His offices are in the Railway Exchange building in Portland.

Ethan Collier has accepted a position with the State Highway Commission and has started his work in the vicinity of The Dalles, making that city his headquarters.

Mary Watson has returned to the campus after a year's leave of absence at Columbia University.

* * *

1910

W. C. Nicholas, who was the first editor of the Emerald, is located in Portland, where he is a civil engineer.

C. J. Poysky, who has been supervising the construction of the diking projects in and around Kelso, and was engineer of the Woodland project of 5500 acres, has been appointed engineer of the Clarke county diking project by the Clarke county board of commissioners.

C. Paine Shangle has been superintendent of the Wapato public schools for five years. Mr. Shangle, after leaving Oregon, went to Wisconsin, where he took graduate work under Prof. Reinsch.

Dean Collins has resigned from the staff of the Telegram and gone into the motion picture business. His work will be that of managership of the publicity and service department of the Universal Film Exchanges in Portland and Seattle. He will make Portland his headquarters.

Oliver B. Huston is associated with Henius and Company, of Portland, which deals in foreign trade.

Alfred Powers was married the 9th of August to Harriett E. Morsman, of Los Angeles, Cal. They are making their home in Seattle, Wash., where Mr. Powers is in Red Cross work.

Dudley R. Clarke has returned from overseas and is now living in Los Angeles, Cal.

Charles W. Erskine, ex-'10, is back now practicing law at Bend, after being in the chemical welfare service at Edgewood arsenal, Maryland. Mr. Erskine was married recently to Helen McGuire, of The Dalles.

Arthur M. Geary, who was recently discharged as a lieutenant from the air service, has resumed his practice of law, taking offices in the Platt building. Mr. Geary is the new president of the Portland Alumni Association.

Hester Eva Campbell and Dr. Ralph Dodson have sent out announcements of their marriage, which took place in New York.

Harold Alden Dalzell is director of Men's and Boy's work in the Fourth Presbyterian Church (Dr. Timothy Stone's church) in Chicago, and is doing a big work along new lines. Mrs. Dalzell (Mae Sage, ex-'10, of Eugene) succumbed to influenza last fall. Mr. Dalzell, three-year-old Betty, and Mrs. Dalzell were all down with it at the same time, Mr. Dalzell and the baby recovering.

Roscoe Lyons, who specialized in chemistry, was one of the big men in the Rock Island arsenal during the war, directing the manufacture of explosives.

A Yamhill county boy recently was on the same coach enroute to Brest with Major Laurie Van Valzah, formerly of Springfield, Ore. The major was known to his classmates and the 1909-'10 crowd as "Banty." Major Van Valzah later graduated in medicine from Johns Hopkins, and his commission is in the medical corps. Through the Yamhill boy Major Van Valzah sent his greetings to Harper N. Jamison, who is engaged in business in McMinnville, county seat of Yamhill county.

Captain Chester A. Downs landed in New York City on July 23rd from orthopedic surgical service overseas, with base hospital No. 88, which was stationed in Savenay, France.

* * *

1911

Ralph Cronise, ex-'11, is living in Albany, where he is part owner of the Albany Democrat.

William Lowell, ex-'11, is now editor and business manager of the Pendleton Tribune.

Fritz Dean, ex-'11, is in Portland selling Hupmobiles for the Manley Auto Company.

Edith Baker Pattee will teach in the University Campus High School this year.

Jessie Fariss will teach mathematics and English in the La Grande High School.

Percy Collier is practicing law in Salem. He is married and has two children.

Mrs. Ray Woodruff Jenkins lives in Eugene, where her husband is editor of the morning daily. She has two small children.

Rev. Arthur H. Sargent is minister of the Congregational churches of Post Mills and West Fairlee Center, Vermont. His address is Post Mills, Vt.

Effie Bell McCallum is serving as missionary in China.

Mrs. Hazel McNair Paine is making her home just out of Springfield, Ore. Her husband, Elmer Paine, is associated with Wadhams & Kerr Bros. Co., in Eugene.

Mrs. Edith Woodcock Whittlesey lives in Portland, where her husband, Peter Whittlesey, ex-'10, is engaged in business.

Mrs. Helen Beach Mitchell and her husband, Graham Mitchell, '12, are living in Warren, Ariz., where Mr. Mitchell is engaged as a mining expert.

Fred Henkel, ex-'11, formerly all northwest pitcher on the varsity baseball team, is now construction foreman for the Portland Light & Power Company.

Harry J. Hildebrand, ex-'11, well known football player, is now in the contracting business and engaged in work on the Pacific highway.

Carlos Marsters, ex-'11, while at the University recording secretary for the Y. M. C. A., is now a broker in the firm of Draper & Marsters, of Portland.

Mrs. Jessie Calkins Morgan lives on a fruit ranch in eastern Oregon with her husband and small daughter, Margaret Ann.

Dean Hayes, ex-'11, who was recently discharged from the service where he received his commission of 2nd lieutenant, is now located in Portland, where he is manager of the Harris importers.

Charles W. Robison is practicing law in Astoria.

Mrs. Helen Washburne Martin lives with her parents in Springfield, Ore.

Mrs. Cecile Wilcox Chandler spent a few days on the campus at commencement time. Mrs. Chandler resides in Marshfield, where her husband, Ben R. Chandler, ex-'13, is in the banking business.

Mrs. Mary DeBar Taylor, who has been making her home with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. DeBar, of Eugene, this last year, has left for the east with her little daughter, Jean, where she will probably meet her husband, Major Charles Taylor, better known in college as "Chuck," upon his return from France.

Mrs. Ruth Rolfe Neill lives in Salem, where her husband, William Neill, ex-'13, is an electrical engineer in the employ of the Oregon Public Service Commission.

Morris Starbuck is working in the First National Bank of Eugene.

Walter L. Dobie, ex-'11, and Ruth Peter were married in August. The young couple will make their home in Tulsa, Okla., where Mr. Dobie is in the oil business.

George H. Otten has arrived home in Portland from overseas. While in France he attended the Montpelier University.

Myron Getchell will teach science in the Centralia High School this fall.

1912

H. W. Fredericksen is living in Ontario, Cal., where he is a doctor of optometry.

Alma Payton, who has spent the last three winters in New York City studying music, was in Portland visiting recently.

R. J. Cross, ex-'12, is research chemist at Mellon Institute, Pittsburgh, Pa.

F. E. Dunton has been elected superintendent of the Castle Rock schools.

Chester A. Moores, until recently private secretary to the late Governor Withycombe, has accepted an important position on the staff of the Lumbermen's Trust Company, of Portland.

Ted Williams, ex-'12, is assistant cashier at the United States National Bank of Portland.

Frieda Goldsmith expects to open offices for corrective work this fall in Portland.

Mrs. Nell Murphy Djekson is now living in Washington, D. C., and she says of Old Oregon: "I am enjoying 'Old Oregon.' It means a great deal to us who live far away from Oregon, and who want to keep in touch with the life and growth of our own university. The 'news' was vitally interesting."

Cora Chase is nursing in the American hospital at Nanking, China.

Ernest Smith, ex-'12, is a prominent druggist in Medford, Ore.

J. Earl Jones is living with his wife and daughter on a large wheat ranch near Lambert, Mont. Mr. Jones was a member of the last state legislature of Montana.

Guy R. Kennedy, ex-'12, who will be remembered as one of those who had charge of constructing the "O" on Skinner's Butte, is now manager for the Standard Oil Company in Chicago.

Lair H. Gregory, ex-'12, while at the University founder and editor of the Midnight Doughnut and originator of the Doughnut League, is now automobile editor for the Portland Oregonian. He enlisted in the navy as a "plain gob," as he expressed it, but has been discharged and is back in Portland.

H. H. Hoffman, ex-'12, is now superintendent of schools at Kennewick, Wash.

Arthur G. Means, ex-'12, is manager of the commissary department of the Malheur Livestock Land Company, of Vale, Ore. Mrs. Means was formerly Javina Stanfield, '12. They have one son, Donald Stanfield Means.

Ruth Merrick Caufield is at home in Oregon City.

Raymond Heider is living on his large wheat farm near Madras, Ore., with his wife and two children. Mr. Heider has been recently elected county engineer of Jefferson county.

Leon L. Ray is district attorney for Lane county and resides in Eugene.

"When any person from Old Oregon is in Joplin, Mo., Picher, Okla., or Miami, Okla., call up Sidney E. Henderson, 'phone 36, Picher, Okla., care Piokee mine, and he will be glad to show you over the greatest lead and zinc mining district in the world," writes "Sid" to "Old Oregon."

* * *

1913

Harry L. Cash, ex-'13, has been in the Philippines for three years, where he has been teaching school. At present he is principal of the Tailae Provincial High School, which has an enrollment of 500.

He expects to return to the States in April or May of next year.

W. Homer Maris is working for the government biological bureau. He recently paid a visit to Medford, where he made a survey of the surrounding country relative to conducting a campaign of exterminating gray-diggers, gophers and jack rabbits. Mr. Maris has been very successful in this line of work.

J. Ward Arney, ex-'13, better known as "J. Pluve" on the Emerald staff, writes that he is back at Coeur d'Alene, Ida., practicing law. He served two years as assistant attorney-general of Idaho, but resigned to enter the service as a second-class seaman at Puget Sound navy yard. Mrs. J. Ward Arney was Mildred Thomas, '19.

Carlton Spencer has been elected registrar of the University, taking the place of Mr. A. R. Tiffany. Mr. Spencer returned this spring from Langley Field, Hampton Va., where he was commanding officer of squadron A and judge advocate of Langley Field.

Helen Ramage is in associated charities work in Berkeley, Cal.

Philip Hammond, ex-'13, is practicing law with his brother in Oregon City.

Lloyd Barzee, who was head of the commercial department in the Technical High School of Oakland, Cal., was transferred to the office of the superintendent of the Oakland public schools. Mr. Barzee also has charge of all the evening classes for foreigners in the city of Oakland.

Agnes Campbell spent several days on the campus visiting during the summer session. At present she is making her home in Monmouth.

Willard Shaver was married in Washington, D. C., on the 25th of July to Margaret M. Maginnis, of Portland. Mr. Shaver has just returned from overseas with the 18th engineer. Last November he was transferred to the engineering headquarters in France, and for some time past has been engaged in compiling a history of American engineering work in the war zone. In this work Mr. Shaver was associated with an editor of the Engineering News Record, one of the foremost American technical journals. Mr. and Mrs. Shaver will make their home in New York, where Mr. Shaver has accepted a position with the Engineering News Record.

Dean H. Walker has bought the Brauer & Conley furniture store in Eugene.

Andrew Collier spent a few days in Eugene this summer visiting his parents. Mr. Collier was accompanied by his wife and small son. Mr. Collier is assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Klamath Falls.

Fendel Waite has arrived home from France, where he has been for a year. "Fen" enjoyed an unusual opportunity in being able to attend the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. He studied animal husbandry and was also a spectator at the livestock fair in Wales after completing his course.

Lena B. Newton has been awarded a double scholarship in the Teachers' College at Columbia University. Miss Newton will specialize in rural supervision and community social service during her term in New York.

Karl H. Martzloff has recently been discharged from the army, where he was orthopedic surgeon at Camp Funston, Kans. Dr. Martz-loff will resume his work at Johns Hopkins.

Olive H. Zimmerman was married the 16th of July to Paul D. Holfman. They will make their home in Portland, where Mr. Holfman is pastor in the Congregational ministry.

K. E. Tillotson, ex-'13, is resident manager of the Pennsylvania Molybdenum Mines Company in Pitkin, Colo.

Ann McMicken was married June 30th to Roy H. Murrow. The young couple are making their home in Portland.

Walter McClure has been commissioned in the United States regular army with the rank of captain. Captain McClure is now at Coblenz, Germany, with the 26th infantry in the first division.

Vernon H. Vawter was appointed regent of the University to succeed W. H. Gore, '86, whose term had expired.

Franklin S. Allen has gone to Los Angeles to join the advertising staff of the Los Angeles Examiner. For the last year Mr. Allen has been manager of the Pacific Railways Advertising Company in Portland.

William C. Hurn, ex-'13, has accepted a position with the Northwestern Steel Company, of Portland.

Ira Manville has been appointed assistant in physiology in the School of Medicine in Portland.

* * *

1914

The many friends of Carl B. Fenton were shocked to hear of his untimely death on May 3rd. Carl had just returned from overseas, where he had been with the 3rd Oregon for thirteen months. Soon after his arrival at home he became ill with spinal meningitis and little hope was held for his recovery from the start. When in college Fenton played tackle on the varsity football team, developing into one of the star punters in the northwest. He was also on the varsity basketball and baseball teams, being one of the few Oregon athletes receiving three letters a year in major sports.

Herman Oberteuffer, scout executive of Spokane, had an article in the Oregon Teachers' Monthly on "Boy Scouts of America."

E. E. Stanard, ex-'14, of Brownsville, had an article in the May issue of the Oregon Teachers' Monthly on "Teaching the Peace Congress—Its History."

Clarence Ash has accepted a position with a shipping agency in Portland. He and Maud Mastick Ash, '14, and baby daughter are at home in Portland.

Earl Fortmiller is practicing medicine in Albany, where he is one of the leading anaesthetists.

Alfred Collier was married the 15th of July to Ethel Foster, of Eugene. The young couple are at present living in Eugene.

Vernon T. Motschenbacher is associated with the Travelers' Life Insurance Company, with offices in the Wilcox building in Portland.

Barbara Booth has returned to her home in Eugene from Camp Lewis, where she was head aide in the reconstruction work at the base hospital.

Fred Anunsen, better known as "Dutch," and his wife, formerly Zella M. Soult, are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of Jean Anunsen. They are living in Portland.

Agnes McLaughlin, ex-'14, and Paul Briedwell, '13, were married the 16th of April in Portland. Mr.

Briedwell has just returned from England, where he was stationed with an aero squadron.

John F. Leggett has been employed in the ship yards in Marshfield since last June, and is now in the store room and warehouse of the Coos Bay Shipbuilding Company.

Robert Bradshaw is practicing law in The Dalles, Ore.

George Stevenson has recently returned from overseas service, where he was with the 23rd engineers.

Robert D. McCornack was recently married and is living in Wenatchee, Wash., where he is interested in the First National Bank.

L. W. Turnbull, ex-'14, who has had much post graduate work at the University, will be superintendent of the schools in Tillamook next year.

Harry C. Vierick, ex-14, has opened offices in Portland as an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist.

Alfred L. Lee, ex-'14, is with the C. M. Andrews Dental Company in Los Angeles.

Eleanor McClaine has returned to her home in Silverton after spending several months in Halifax and New York City in the Red Cross canteens.

Elizabeth Cowden has announced her engagement to George Smith, of New York. The wedding will take place this fall.

* * *

1915

Roger Moe, ex-'15, is selling oil stock in Seattle.

Frank Dudley, ex-'15, is credit man for Wadhams-Kerr Company, of Portland.

Peter Crockatt was at Cheney Normal School, Cheney, Wash., for the summer session, where he was professor of economics.

Hazel V. Rader spent the summer in Portland. She returned to Oakland, Cal., in August, where she is teaching in the department of physical training at the Technical High School.

Vera Moffat spent the summer in Eugene. She will teach at Bellingham Normal this year, where she is head of the physical training department.

Georgia Cross and Gene Good, '17, were married in the early spring and are living in Walla Walla, Wash., where Mr. Good is owner and manager of the Hotel Dacres.

Margaret Mann, who has been specializing in zoology laboratory work at the University this summer school, has left for the University of California, where she has been awarded a scholarship in research.

Don Rader, ex-'15, is playing short stop for the Portland team in the Pacific Coast League.

Clay Watson, ex-'15, has returned from overseas and is making his home with his mother in Oakland, Cal.

Ben F. Dorris has received a citation from General Pershing for gallantry in action. The citation reads: "First Lieutenant Benjamin F. Dorris, 362nd infantry, for distinguished and exceptional gallantry at Steunbrugge on October 31st, 1918, in the operation of the American Expeditionary Forces, in testimony therefore and as an expression of the appreciation of his valor I award him this citation." On October 31st, while Lt. Dorris was leading his company into action after his captain had fallen he was severely wounded in the jaw. Unable to speak he continued to direct his men by signs. Lt. Dorris was also awarded the Belgian Croix de Guerre for bravery in action. He has been in Eugene on a three-months' sick leave visiting his folks. He returned to the general hospital No. 40 in St. Louis, where he will receive further treatment.

Russell Brooks, ex-'15, has been appointed as American vice-consul to Rotterdam, Holland, by President Wilson.

Edward A. Geary, ex-'15, is living on a ranch in the upper Klamath Lake region.

Mrs. Arthur Clarke, formerly Helen Jane Hamilton, is living in Corvallis, where her husband is district attorney.

Edith Buell, ex-'15, visited in Eugene on her way back to her home in California, in July.

James A. Pack, ex-'15, is living on his ranch near Meridian, Ida., with his wife and little Jimmie Pack.

An extract from a recent letter from Jacob Cornog: "Last summer I was at Tarrytown, N. Y., visiting the scenes of Washington Irving's literary efforts concerning Rip Van Winkle, Ichabod Crane and the Headless Horseman. Major Andre was captured here when Benedict Arnold tried to betray his country. I had visited the old Dutch church, built in 1688, still standing in good condition and was walking through the adjoining cemetery, which is right in Sleepy Hollow, when I got to talking with an old caretaker. I told him I was from Oregon, whereupon he told me of the nearby burial place of Henry Villard, an original benefactor of the University. It is a beautiful spot on a knoll overlooking Sleepy Hollow creek, and embellished by a rather pretentious figure of allegorical significance which was lost to me."

Jacob Cornog, since graduation, has taught chemistry at Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Oregon, been employed by the Stillwell laboratories of New York City, and is now a graduate assistant in the chemistry department of Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio. Address care chemistry department.

Charlotte S. Sears is working in the actuarial department of the Travelers' Insurance Co., in Hartford, Conn.

Boyce Fenton is with Morris Brothers, Inc., municipal and corporation bond house, which is located in Portland. He married Rose Basler, '14, and they are living in Portland.

Dale Chessman, ex-'15, is sales manager of the Northwest Auto Company.

Ruth W. Sears is a statistical clerk in the Hartford Accident and Indemnity Co., of Hartford, Conn.

Bryant DeBar, ex'15, has returned to his home in Eugene from overseas. He expects to leave shortly for San Francisco, where he has accepted a position with the Standard Oil Company.

Victor Morris has been appointed to take the place of Professor A. N. French, of the University of Oregon during the latter's absence at Columbia University. Mr. Morris will be vice-principal and head of the history department in the Campus High School.

Harold Grady, ex-'15, and wife are living in La Grande, where "Hal" is working with the Highway Construction Company.

Roy Currey, ex-'15, is back in La Grande, having been discharged from the service.

Mildred Riddle will teach in the La Grande High School this fall.

Anthony Jaureguy, formerly superintendent of schools in Oakland, Ore., will attend Harvard University this fall.

J. Andre Wells and wife, Clara Erdman Wells, '16, are at 3182 Perry Ave., New York City, N. Y. Mr. Wells is in the laboratories of the Western Electric Company. He plans on taking a doctor degree at Columbia before returning to the West.

Charlotte and Ruth Sears, now employed in Hartford, Conn., have decided there is no place like Oregon and are planning to return in time for commencement, 1920, and to remain.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Hodge are living in Cottage Grove, where Mr. Hodge is resident engineer for the state highway department. Mrs. Hodge was formerly Mabel Miller.

* * *

1916

Margaret Montague, ex-'16, is attending the University of California. She is working for her doctor's degree in psychology.

Prentiss Brown paid a visit to the campus recently. He will be principal of Baker High School this fall.

Lt. Lamar O. Tooze has returned from France, where he was detached with the 91st division. Lt. Tooze was assigned by the army to study at the famous Sorbonne in Paris. While overseas Lt. Tooze wrote a history of his regiment, written in collaboration with the regimental chaplain. Twenty-five hundred copies of the work, which is printed in New York, have already been sold to members of the regiment. Lamar spent a day here in Eugene on his way to southern Oregon, where he gave his lecture on "A Soldier's Experiences in the War." These lectures, which covered fifteen towns, were given as a benefit for the Woman's building. The money raised from the lectures will go into a memorial tablet to his twin brother, Leslie, who was killed in action.

Lt. John C. Burgard has been discharged from the army and was in Alaska for the summer. While overseas Lt. Burgard received a severe wound which delayed his discharge.

Walter E. Church and Bernice McGregor were married the 1st of May in Astoria. Mr. Church has gone east this fall to enter Boston Tech and finish his course in architecture which he started before he enlisted.

Vera Williams will teach this fall in the High School at The Dalles.

Mae Neill will teach in La Grande this fall. She has been attending summer school at the University of Washington.

Arvilla Beckwith, ex-'16, will teach in the La Grande High School this fall.

Harold F. Humbert, general secretary of the Oregon Sunday School Association, with headquarters in Portland, was instructor in summer school conducted by the International Sunday School Association at Conference Point, Lake Geneva, Wis., during July.

Sam Cook, ex-'16, passed through Coeur d'Alene, Ida., "en Ford" for Montana recently. Reports say he looked splendidly well and reports much success.

Claude Hampton is operating his sheep and wheat ranch and alfalfa ranch near Echo, Ore.

Henry Howe won a scholarship at the University of California this year.

Evangeline Husband has been elected for next year to teach English at the Hood River High School.

Genevieve Shaver will teach in the commercial department of Jefferson High School of Portland this fall.

An engagement and wedding which comes as a surprise is that of Marie Sheahan, ex-'18, to Lt. Lamar Tooze. Lt. Tooze is widely known throughout Oregon and has just returned from overseas, where he was eleven months with Co. L of the 364th infantry of the 91st division and later studied law and French at the Sorbonne. The marriage took place September eleventh, they will make their home in Cambridge for two years, while Mr. Tooze completes his studies in law at Harvard University.

Lyle Bigbee, ex-'16, is pitching for the Seattle team in the Pacific Coast League.

Nellie Lombard will teach English in Medford High School this fall.

Miss Helen Crump was married to Mr. Arthur Beem April 27th. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Crump, Peckham, Colo. Mr. and Mrs. Beem are living in Filer, Ida.

Word has been received on the campus of the death of Lieutenant Joseph Chester Miller. He was run over and killed by a railroad engine near Gievres, France, about the 1st of June, according to a letter received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred O. Miller, of Portland, from Albert L. Evans, senior chaplain of the American forces stationed in that district. Chaplain Evans writes that Lt. Miller was walking along the track late at night and apparently did not hear the train.

"Bill" Holden, ex-'16, has returned from Detroit, where he has been with the Columbia Truck and Trailer Company since being released from the army. "Bill" is located in Yakima, Wash., where he has a motor truck agency.

Helen Frances Driver, ex-'16, is now a member of the staff of the Nation's Business, the national chamber of commerce magazine, and is making her home at 1327 Park Road, Washington, D. C. Miss Driver, before she left for the east, was on the staff of the Morning Oregonian, of Portland, Ore.

Jay P. Coffey, ex-'16, returned with base hospital No. 46 from overseas. Mr. Coffey is living in Portland, where he is studying medicine.

Harry L. Kuck is city editor on the Albany Herald.

Chester Huggins, famous track athlete, was in Eugene part of July. Mr. Huggins is associated with the Travelers' Life Insurance Company, with offices in Portland.

Lucile M. Fenton, ex-'16, was married to Captain E. Gerry Watkins, ex-'17, of the United States army, this spring. The young couple are residing at present in Seattle, Wash.

Merlin G. Batley has recently accepted a position with the Times Printing and Publishing Company, of Twin Falls, Ida. During the Fourth of July celebration there "Bat" was secretary of the Round-up association. "Bat" expects to be back here for Home-coming this fall.

Vere Windnagle, ex-'16, will teach next year in the Baker High School, Baker, Ore.

Leslie B. Blades has recently written a book called "Claire," which is on the market now.

Isabella Garland, ex-'17, and Dean Crowell were married September 6th.

Grace H. Edgington spent the summer in Sisters, Ore. She will return to the University of Washington this fall, where she is instructor in the department of journalism.

Louis Bond was awarded a scholarship in chemistry at the University of California, but intends to return to the University of Oregon as he has been given a teaching scholarship.

Lt. Bob McMurray has returned from France, where he was stationed with the 15th cavalry and recently received his discharge at Camp Lewis. Mr. and Mrs. McMurray (Gertie Taylor) will live in Salem, where Mr. McMurray will be associated with the Vermont Loan Company.

Don T. Orput is Registrar for Ellison-White studio in Portland.

Elizabeth Minturn will teach mathematics in the Milwaukee High School this fall.

Erna Petzold is keeping books in her father's store at Oregon City.

Jessie Purdy is in charge of the library of the Marshfield High School.

C. H. Minturn, ex-'16, is at present living in Eugene.

P. E. Baker, ex-'16, is principal of the High School in Medford, Ore.

Lt. Chaplain Ramsay, ex-'16, is stationed at Camp Gordon, where he is head of the morale department.

The first Oregon man to visit the campus wearing three overseas service stripes was Vernon G. Garrett, ex-'16, better known as "Dobbie." Mr. Garrett was in the service 23 months, spending 20 months in France and Belgium, where he was an ambulance driver with the University of California Unit 586.

Alan C. Fulton, better known as "Dick," writes that he is practicing law in Astoria. He has two children.

Charles H. Collier has just returned from Germany, where he was with the 81st company, machine-gun batallion of the 2nd division. He saw considerable fighting.

* * *

1917

Paul E. Chesebro, ex-'17, joined the army in 1916. He was stationed at Fort McKinley, P. I., for 21 months. He left the Philippines in 1918 for Siberia, where he spent two months at Vladivostok and five months at Khabarosk. At present he is with the the American troops guarding the trans-Siberian railroad.

Nellie Cox Reagan left for the east in July, where she will join her husband, who is with the marine aviation service now stationed at Quantico, Va. Mrs. Reagan has been teaching in the Medford High School the past year.

Clyde Erwin Phillips, ex-'17, was recently married to Marie Antoinette Prouse, of Portland. They are living in Pendleton, where Mr. Phillips is with the Inland Empire Bank.

Edison Marshall, ex-'17, has sold stories for early publication to the American and Everybody's magazines, besides a series of stories now appearing in the Blue Book magazine. The locale of all the stories is in southern Oregon.

Lee A. Bostwick, ex-'17, who majored in journalism while in college, has accepted a position on the Baker Herald.

Floyd Westerfield, ex-'17, has accepted a position as advertising man for the Eugene Daily Guard.

Maurice H. Hyde is now news editor of the Eugene Daily Guard.

Bernice Ely, ex-'17, who has been given a leave of absence from the Puyallup Tribune for four months, is doing advance work for the Ellison-White Chatauqua.

Walter Dimm has returned from overseas. He spent a few days in Eugene recently on his way to Portland, where he will probably locate in the printing business.

Ruth Roche, who has been stationed at the general hospital No. 34, West Baden, Ind., and at the general hospital No. 26, Des Moines, Ia., doing reconstruction work, has returned to her home in Eugene. Miss Roche will teach physical training in the Eugene High School this fall.

James Cellars has returned to Portland from overseas, where he was with the 148th heavy artillery of the 91st division.

William N. Burgard was married the 16th of June to Ruth Shull, of Portland. The young couple will make their home in Portland, where Mr. Burgard will be in the insurance business with his father.

Word has been received that Lt. Elmer Hall, ex-'14, and Lt. John W. Beckett, ex-'17, have arrived in the States from overseas and will be out here on the coast before long.

George Dixon, ex-'17, who went to France with the 2nd anti-aircraft battalion, has returned home and is now located in Portland.

Garnet L. Green is practicing law in Astoria, Ore., and has offices in the Spexarth building.

Leo Potter is advertising manager for the Universal Film Company in Seattle, Wash.

Cy Sweek, ex-'17, is now assistant manager of the Woolworth store in Gary, Ind.

Ina Cochran, ex-'17, was married the 22nd of July to Frederick Heath. They will make their home in San Francisco, Cal.

June Beebe will teach history and English at Heppner High School this fall.

Jean Bell will teach in the Prairie High School this fall.

A note of appreciation of "Old Oregon" was received from Lt. David W. Evans, who was stationed in Berncastle, Germany: "Just a line to thank you for the copy of 'Old Oregon' which I received today. Best wishes for the success of the magazine, which I know will keep alive the true spirit of 'Old Oregon.'"

The engagement of Ruth Ralston and George Otten, '11, has been announced. The wedding will take place this winter.

Mildred Brown will be librarian in the Astoria High School this fall. Miss Brown spent part of her summer here in the University library as assistant.

Harold D. Berlin, ex-'17, has been chosen as an interne at the King's County hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y., for the coming year. The internships at this hospital are recognized as offering exceptionally good training.

Helen McCornack and George T. Colton, ex-'17, were married July 12th at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. McCornack, of Spokane, Wash.

Iva Wood is spending the summer in Eugene. Miss Wood will return to Lyle, Wash., where she is principal of the High School.

Dorothy Wheeler has been appointed private secretary to United States Representative W. C. Hawley, of Oregon City. Miss Wheeler has been doing stenographic work in the income tax department in Washington, D. C., since last November.

A wedding of interest was that of Mildred Woodruff, '18, and Lynn Parr, which was solemnized in Portland on July 9th. Mr. and Mrs. Parr left for Elmira, Wash., on September 1st, where Mr. Parr is principal of the High School.

Marie Barnett Cooper, ex-'17, is living in Wasco, where her husband is president of the W. M. Barnett Bank.

Carson Bigbee, ex-'17, is playing baseball again this season with the Pittsburgh League Club. He has been in the service up to the beginning of March, but at that time was discharged to take up baseball again. Mrs. Bigbee, formerly Grace Bingham, '18, joined him in Chicago June 1st.

Harriet J. Duncan, ex-'17, will teach in the grammar grades in Sac City, Iowa, this fall.

Chalmer Patterson returned in February from New York, where he was employed in the laboratories of the Western Electric Co. He spent 11 months doing research work along electrical lines which the government could use to defeat the enemy. The problem of a submarine detector occupied much of Patterson's time. This apparatus was installed along the coast, with different kinds of boats, and within a certain range the presence of a submarine in the water could be detected. How great this range is, or the nature of the apparatus is still a secret, Mr. Patterson said. Mr. Patterson has accepted a position as instructor in the chemistry department at Albany College.

Jack Elliott is stationed in Eugene with the forest patrol airplanes. "Jack" has been discharged from the army, where he held the commission of captaincy in the air service. He was overseas for 11 months.

Harold Hamstreet has resumed his duties as associate editor on the Sheridan Sun after two months' illness with typhoid fever.

Ernest Watkins and wife, Mary Alice Hill Watkins and small daughter, Mary Helen, are leaving this fall for Bandon, where they will reside.

Jeanette Wheatley has been attending summer school at the University of California. She will teach in La Grande this fall.

Helen Currey will teach in the High School at La Grande this fall.

Mary Louise Allen and Louis Rosenberg were married this summer. They will live in Eugene this year, where Mr. Rosenberg is in the architecture department of the University.

Fred Kiddle has returned from overseas, where he was in the ordnance department. "Freddie" is associated with his father in the flour business in Island City.

Lucile Watson will teach mathematics in the Salem High School this fall.

Bob Langley will return to Rush Medical School in Chicago to finish his medical course.

* * *

1918

Erma Keithley will spend the winter in Portland.

Freda Laird attended the summer session at the University. Miss Laird has been teaching at Culver, Ore., the past year and expects to return there this fall.

Richard Montague is studying medicine at the University of Oregon Medical School in Portland.

Walter L. Myers was elected alumni member on the Forensic council at the June meeting.

Jeanette McClaren Nelson is making her home in Pendleton, where her husband, Martin Nelson, '17, is in the insurance business.

Joy Gross will teach in the Oregon City High School this fall.

Lee V. Cutsforth and Margaret Crosby were married in July. Miss Crosby has been teaching in eastern Oregon for some time. The young couple plan to make Portland their future home.

Cornelia Hees has been elected as head of the mathematics department in the La Grande High School for next year.

Orville Montieth, ex-'18, who has gone east to visit his mother, had the misfortune to receive a broken nose the day before his departure. He was swimming when one of his friends swimming in front of him happened to kick him in the nose, breaking that member. This is the seventh time it has been broken, football being the cause in the other cases. "Monty" expects to study medicine in the east this fall.

Leland H. Haines, ex-'18, has a position with the Standard Oil Company of Portland.

Ray Couch is vice-president of a collection agency in Portland.

Cleome Carroll has accepted a position with the Butterick Publishing Company in New York City. This last year Miss Carroll has been studying at Columbia University.

Esther Jacobson will teach school just outside of Klamath Falls this winter.

Ruth Westfall will teach in the Eugene High School this fall.

* TALC *
Jonteel
 25¢

gives every woman who loves a rare perfume, the opportunity to know and enjoy a talc having a wonderful, costly odor at a price unusually low. Take Jonteel home with you today.

Kuykendall's Drug Store

Julia Louise Manning took work in the summer school at the University of California this year. Miss Manning will teach in one of the high schools in Portland this fall.

Charles H. Tisdale is living in Portland, where he is associated with the Portland Seed Company.

Helene DeLano Vosper is making her home in San Francisco, where her husband, Ernest Vosper, ex-'16, has a position with one of the shipbuilding corporations.

Beatrice Gaylord has just recuperated from an attack of scarlet fever. She will teach at Monmouth High School this fall.

"Eddie" Gray, ex-'18, has opened offices in Bend, Ore., where he is practicing dentistry.

Dr. Ira E. Gaston left Portland in July for Philadelphia, where he will begin special work in surgery of the eye, ear, nose and throat. Dr. Gaston will be gone from Portland about eight months, during which he will attend clinics in New York, Boston and in Washington, D. C. He will also take special work under the Mayo brothers in Rochester, N. Y.

Clarence Lombard, ex-'18, has returned from France, where he spent 12 months. Mr. Lombard left Eugene with the 361st ambulance company, but was later transferred to a base hospital unit.

Juanita Wilkins Crews, ex-'18, is living in Columbia, S. C., where her husband is practicing law. Mr. Crews has been re-elected to the house of representatives of that state.

Mr. Laird Woods, ex-'18, has accepted a position in The Dalles National Bank.

Dorothy Collier will attend Wellesley this winter.

Oregon's Best Mail Order House—Postage to Any Part of Oregon

THE McMORRAN & WASHBURNE STORE
 Eighth, Willamette and Park Sts., Eugene, Oregon.
 1170 Broadway, New York City.

For over eleven years the home of the best in ready-to-wear, furnishings and dry goods for college men and women

McMorran & Washburne Store
 FOR STYLE, QUALITY & ECONOMY

EARN AND LEARN

Secure a better education, without interrupting your present work, by taking home study courses with the University of Oregon. More than seventy courses are offered in the following subjects:

Bird Study	Geology
Bookkeeping	German
Botany	History
Citizenship	Sociology
Debating	Literature
Drawing	Mathematics
Economics	Philosophy
Education	Physics
Practical Electricity	Physiology
English	Psychology

The average fee for courses is $3.00.

Check the subjects that interest you and mail this advertisement with your name and address to the Extension Division, University of Oregon, Eugene, Oregon, for a complete catalog of courses.

Name

Address

Shoes of Distinctive Style and Quality

SHOES YOU WILL BE PROUD TO WEAR

PROFESSIONAL AND COURTEOUS SERVICE

The Home of Hanan Shoes for Men and Women

Peter Pan

SHORT THICK MALTS

Were Originated Here

“FRIENDLY SERVICE”

Rex Floral Co.

EUGENE

CORSAGE BOUQUETS
Our Specialty

POTTED PLANTS
in Season

FUNERAL WREATHS
and
DECORATIONS

REX THEATRE BUILDING

Walter Kennon, ex-'18, is working on Ernest Watkins' ranch near La Grande.

Clytie Hall Frink, ex-'18, has accepted the position of city editor on the Pendleton Tribune.

Jeanette Calkins has returned to Eugene from a six weeks' visit in the east.

Cosby Louise Gilstrap, who is in the public library at Los Angeles, Cal., writes: "The plans for Home-coming Day sound most interesting, and I only wish that I lived near Eugene so that I might be among the fortunate alumni who will return on November 15th to see 'Oregon mop up the earth with the Aggies!' With wishes for a most successful reunion and all good luck to the football eleven."

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mehaffey, of Antioch, Cal., are receiving congratulations over the birth of Lawrence, Jr. Mrs. Mehaffey will be remembered as Maude Newbury, ex-'18.

Mary O. Hislop will teach in the Monmouth High School this fall.

Hugh D. Brunk, winner of the Alumni medal for debate in 1918, is pastor of the Church of Christ at Geyserville, Cal. He has organized Boy Scouts there and has been chosen as their scout master.

William Hazeltine is studying law at Harvard University.

Harold Cake is attending Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston, Mass.

George C. Winters is residing in Mill City, Ore., where he is principal of the Mill City public schools.

Harry Crain, ex-'18, has accepted a position of telegraph editor on the Capital Journal in Salem, Ore.

Glen Stanton has a position with Whitehouse and Foulhoux, architects, in Portland.

The University of Oregon
SCHOOL OF MUSIC

The following departments are maintained:

Piano, Violin, Voice, Organ, Flute, Band Instruments, Public School Music, Composition and History.

Modern Equipment; Faculty of twenty four Specialists.
Over One Thousand Students enrolled under Faculties in Eugene and Portland.

The School of Music announces the engagement of

Mr. Rex Underwood, Violin
Albert Lukken, Voice
Martha Findahl, Voice
Ross Hickernell, Band

For bulletins and particulars, address

DR. JOHN J. LANDBURY, Dean,
University of Oregon, Eugene.

Mehlin Grand Piano

—When you buy a Mehlin Piano you secure an instrument that is built to serve faithfully for years and years. "Life-time Service" has ever been the Mehlin watchword.

Eugene Music Shop

8 East Ninth

CHENEY PHONOGRAPHS

Representing
G. F. Johnson Piano Co.

It Was Franklin's Idea the Split bifocal

But the highest perfection of the idea is seen in
KRYPTOK GLASSES

Not a seam or a hump to distinguish KRYPTOKS (pronounced Crip-tocks) from ordinary single vision glasses. Yet the near and far vision they give you is perfect.

We are equipped to take care of your every eyeglass need.

Sherman W. Moody

EYE SIGHT SPECIALIST and OPTICIAN

885 Willamette Street.

Bring your prescriptions here.
Factory on Premises.

Mrs. Buelah Hayes MacEwen, ex-'18, has moved to Corvallis, where her husband is associated with the Menefee lumber mills.

Helen Dresser, ex-'18, was married this summer to H. C. Gilliland. They will make their home in Texas for awhile, where Mr. Gilliland is in the regular army.

Florence Sherman will teach mathematics and science at Astoria High School this fall.

F. Tostevin, ex-'18, is traveling in the interest of the Pacific Drug Review, a journal for the pharmacist, published in Portland.

Margaret Crim planned and managed the first county track meet ever participated in by the schools from all three districts of Umatilla county in Pendleton, according to word received here. More than 200 school children of the county participated. Miss Crim plans to be in one of the San Francisco public schools next year.

Donna Henry will be assistant principal at Thurston High School this fall.

Caroline Taylor will teach in the high school at Prairie this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dundore are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a son. Mrs. Dundore will be remembered as Paula Linn, ex-'21. They are at home in Seattle, where "Chuck" is representing Sherman-Clay and Co.

Helen Wells is going to New York, where she will prepare herself for a Y. W. C. A. secretary.

John R. Montague has been appointed assistant in physiology at the University of Oregon Medical School in Portland.

* * *

1919

Carl E. Berry, ex-'19, has returned to his home at Parkdale,

Delicious, Flavory Home-Made Bread

There is nothing so satisfying as a slice of our rich golden-brown home-made bread—nothing that can take its place.

It has a welcome place on many family tables—and each new customer is an added friend. You see, our product, made with the same careful attention that you yourself would use in making bread for the family. The appetizing flavor wins and you will want more of it.

Your Favorite

What is your favorite bread? Is it the salt rising or do you prefer graham? Many like the rasin, the whole wheat and rye. It makes no difference which you like best, your favorite is here.

Table Supply Co.

NINTH AT OAK.

L. D. PIERCE

PHONE 246

R. A. Babb Hardware Co.

FISHING TACKLE
HUNTING SUPPLIES
ATHLETIC GOODS

JIM The Shoe Doctor

MENDER OF SOLES

OPPOSITE REX THEATRE

Hood River, Ore., after being discharged from the Canadian Royal Flying Corps at Toronto, Canada.

Burle D. Bramhall, ex-'19, left in May for Siberia to become camp service supervisor for the Red Cross. He wrote friends on the campus that he will be with the American Railway Commission, with Russian railway employes and families, and with the Czech army.

Beatrice Thurston, ex-'19, and Lowell Paget were married in Eugene July 7th. The young couple will make their home in Portland, Ore.

James S. Sheehy has joined the staff of the Klamath Falls Herald as city editor. "Jimmie" was associate editor of the Emerald during his last term in college.

Elizabeth Aumiller is now a member of the staff on the Morning Herald at North Yakima. At present she is proof reading but expects to be transferred later to the writing end of the work.

Lucille Saunders, ex-'19, recently left the news staff of the Oregon Statesman at Salem and has accepted a position on the Morning Oregonian in Portland, where she is doing general assignments.

The death of George F. Cook, ex-'19, who was killed in action in France, was reported November 11th, the day the armistice was signed. Cook was well known as an athlete and had played fullback on the Oregon team. He was recommended for the officers' training camp at Quantico, Va., but refused that opportunity in order to see immediate service overseas with company D, fifth regiment, U. S. marines.

Helen McDonald is city editor on the La Grande Observer.

Walker Furniture Co.

Dean H. Walker

NINTH AND OAK STREETS

Phone 824
Eugene, Oregon

FURNITURE

RUGS AND CARPETS

LINOLEUM AND MATTINGS

BEDS AND BEDDING

CURTAINS AND DRAPERIES

STOVES AND RANGES

WINDOW SHADES

SEWING MACHINES

COOKING UTENSILS

DISHES

DO IT ELECTRICALLY

BREAKFAST, for instance, the meal that starts the whole day off. Cook it electrically.

Waffles, crisp and pipping hot, fresh from the electric waffle irons; toast, golden brown, served right from the toaster; and a cup of real coffee from the Electric Percolater on the table.

DELICIOUS? Yes, and easily prepared too! It starts the whole day right to eat one of these electrically cooked breakfasts!

WE CAN SUPPLY YOUR EVERY ELECTRICAL NEED

MYERS ELECTRICAL SUPPLY CO.

Eloine Leighton will teach in Union this fall.

Hallie Hart will teach in Enterprise this fall.

Kathryn Hartley will teach in Clatskanie this winter.

Marie Badura will teach in Independence this fall.

Harold Newton, better known as "Skinny," will leave the 15th of September for Japan, where he will teach.

W. B. NEAL, M. D.,

Physician and Surgeon

Class '08

217 I. O. O. F. Temple
Office Phone 3; Res. Phone, 1093
Eugene, Oregon.

G. S. BEARDSLEY, M. D.

410-415 Cockerline & Wetherbee
Bldg.

Eugene, Oregon

Office Phone 96, Res. Phone 350

APPLEGATE FURNITURE CO.

Your Credit is Good at
APPLEGATE'S

Eugene Theater Block

Lt. Lynn McCready, ex-'19, and wife (Gladys Wilkins, '18) are visiting in Eugene. Lt. McCready has been discharged from the army and will leave shortly for Seattle. Mrs. McCready will remain for awhile longer.

Mary Helen Guttery and Robert Gray McNary, ex-'19, were married the 22nd of July at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Guttery. The young couple will make their home in Hood River, Ore.

Earl W. Murphy, ex-'19, is general assignment man on the Portland Evening Telegram.

Este Brosius, better known as "Doc," is selling bonds for the Lumbermen's Trust Company of Portland.

Charles Croner, ex-'19, is working for the Red Cross Drug Company in Eugene.

Frances Elizabeth Baker will be head of the physical training department at the Hood River High School this next year.

Frances Wiles will teach English and Spanish in the high school at Santa Clara.

Marjorie Campbell will be at the Mountain View High School, where she will teach English and French this fall.

Don Belding, Oregon's banner distance runner of this spring's track team, surprised his University friends by announcing his marriage to Eunice Hodges, of Eugene, on June 10th. Belding has accepted a position of manager of the Western Union office at Klamath Falls.

"Doc" Medley, ex-'19, was married August 9th to Edythe J. Thomas, of Lebanon. "Doc" is now employed as state surveyor and is located in Portland.

Genevieve Gillespie, ex-'19, is teaching school in Kelso, Wash.

W. W. Bristow, Class '10

C. C. Carter

Luckey's Jewelry Store

Established 1869

WATCH, CLOCK AND JEWELRY REPAIRING AND ENGRAVING

WHEN YOU THINK OF

GOOD SERVICE

THINK OF THE

Mountain States Power Co.

When you purchase gas from us, you not only purchase the cleanest and best fuel for cooking and heating water, but you also purchase the best service we know how to give.

881 Oak St.

Telephone 28.

Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen

* * *

If you have Pen Trouble
Consult our Trouble Man

* * *

Schwarzschild's Book Store

Ruby Bogue, ex-'19, was married to Elliott Penrose Chambers, of Pasadena, Cal., on August 29th. The young couple will reside in Livingston, Mont.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tisdale are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a daughter. Mrs. Tisdale was Aline Johnson, ex-'19, before her marriage.

Harold B. Say, ex-'19, has resigned as city editor of the Eugene Daily Guard and has accepted a position with the Portland Journal.

John Nellis Hamlin, ex-'19, is attending Harvard University after getting his discharge from the service.

Mr. and Mrs. John Benton Ruth are the proud parents of a young son born July 28th and named Robert William Ruth. Mr. and Mrs. Ruth (Mamie Gillette, ex-'19) are residing in Berkeley.

Suits and Coats for Fall

ARE NOW BEING DISPLAYED IN OUR SHOW
WINDOWS

Come to the store and view the lovely new Suits and Coats now being shown. —We consider ourselves exceedingly fortunate in being able so early in the season to afford the style discriminating women of this county this opportunity to select authentic styles in Fall Suits and Coats at prices that will look like sale prices.

—We offer a service of courtesy and guarantee satisfaction.

Save the Price

Golden's Women's Shop

663 Willametts St.—Between Sixth and Seventh Sts.

Fraternity Crests

ON

PAPER OF QUALITY AND DISTINCTION

We carry the best of the best lines including Eaton, Crane, and Pike; Hurd's; Whiting and Cooke; and Whiting.

We will fill your orders promptly and carefully whether you send by mail or call personally.

The University Book Store

H. R. TAYLOR

11th and Alder

Phone 229.

Majestic Steel Ranges

AND COOKING UTENSILS OF ALL KINDS
KITCHEN AND TABLE CUTLERY

=====
Chambers Hardware
Company

George Gates, ex-'19, was married the 23rd of April to Joan Anderson, of Medford. The young couple will reside in Medford, where Mr. Gates is associated with his father in the automobile business.

Basil Williams, ex-'19, has returned from overseas, where he was in the ordnance department. "Bas" expects to return to the University this fall.

Grace Hammerstrom will study at Columbia University next year, where she will try for a master's degree in history.

Kathryn E. Johnson has been in the art reference department of the Portland public library during the summer and expects to leave soon to go to New York for the winter to continue her training in this line of work.

A recent letter from Lyman A. Pickett, ex-'19: "Am looking forward to receiving the next issue of 'Old Oregon.' I have found it impossible to return to the University this fall, as it is necessary that I continue with my business career. I am located with King Brothers, in

Otto's

SUPERIOR CONFECTIONS

DELICIOUS, WHOLESOME, PURE

Kodaks

BARCLAY'S KODAK SHOP

10th and Willamette

FILMS

Seattle, as salesman and like the work and the city very much; meet many of the former students and alumni of our Alma Mater here. The two years I spent there I will always remember as two of the most pleasant years of my life. I send my best wishes to you all."

Frank P. Farrell, ex-'19, has now opened law offices with Mr. Everett Reams in the Garnett-Corey building in Medford, Ore. Mr. Farrell has recently been discharged from the navy aviation, where he won his commission of ensign.

* * *

1920

Fremont Hodson, ex-'20, has gone into business in North Bend, Ore.

Carrie Stevens Clinkinbeard, ex-'20, is living near Coquille, Ore., where her husband is running a dairy ranch.

Frank Farrell, ex-'20, and Floyd Hart, ex-'20, are two of the three men who have charge of the Medford Aerial Transportation Company. An airplane has been purchased and will be operated for commercial purposes with Medford as headquarters. Floyd Hart, who is a veteran aviator and officially credited with bringing down a boche plane in France, is pilot. Frank Farrell, naval aviation instructor, is business manager. It is planned to use the machine for flights to Crater Lake, the time of this journey being cut from six hours over a rough road to one hour and 20 minutes.

Florence Brosius, ex-'20, will teach in the primary grade in Hood River this next year.

Dean Seabrook, ex-'20, was married last fall to an English girl he met while overseas.

VICK BROS.

FORD MOTOR CARS

FORDSON TRACTORS

Gasoline, Oils, Auto Supplies

64 Tenth Avenue East

U. of O. Jitney

COUNTRY TRIPS—DAY AND NIGHT SERVICE

Phone 158 19 Seventh Avenue East Phone 158

The Home of the University

Eugene, Oregon.

CANDY

CONFECTIONS

OREGANA

==
The Student's Shop

Corner Alder and 11th Streets

Eugene, Oregon.

ICE CREAM

LUNCHES

Amusement is Essential

FOR ONE TO MAINTAIN A PROPER MENTAL BALANCE

THE VERY BEST IS FOUND AT

THE REX

THE STANDARD OF QUALITY

LUNCHES

ICE CREAM CANDY

OREGON ALUMNI GREETINGS

The Booth-Kelly Lumber Co.

EUGENE, OREGON

We are the largest manufacturers of Douglas Fir, Cedar and Hemlock Lumber in Lane County.

Your inquiries and orders will have prompt attention.